GOVERNMENT IS CONDEMNED

JOHN OLIVER EXPOSES ITS WEAKNESSES

Stinging Criticism is Made of McBride Administration—H. C. Brewster's Speech.

A rousing meeting of young Liberals was held in Pioneer Hall last evening to organize for the campaign and to hear an address from the Liberal leader, John Oliver, of Delta. The utmost confidence was felt by the gathering over the possibility of securing at least some of the Victoria seats, and strong committees were formed to work with others in bringing to the attention of the electors the facts in regard to the alleged railway contract which the government has made.

The hall was filled with members of the Young Liberal Club and other members of the party, and a hearty reception was given to the leader and to H. C. Brewster, whose re-election in Alberni is assured.

Mr. Oliver began by a reference to the opportunity afforded young men to enter public life in this province, and at this time. There never was a time when young and vigorous manhood was so needed in the fight, young men imbued with the patriotic spirit; there never was a time when patriotism was more needed, he said. Dealing with the government's railway policy, the leader said:

"Premier McBride tells us he dissolved the legislature because he had made a contract with the Canadian Northern; that he would not have gone to the people unill he had a contract signed to present to them. His attorney-general, the law-officer of the crown, told the people of Vancouver the other day that they had not yet entered into a contract. So it is hard to tell which of the two to believe. While the premier told us the province would have a first mortgage on the road, there is no such agreement made, as is pointed out by T. W. Paterson in the Victoria Times this evening. Although it is set out that there is to be no employment of Asiatics, a breach of that is not followed by any forfeiture of any assistance given by the province.

"Another thing, the Canadian Northern has no charter to build any portion of its lines on Vancouver Island. On the day the memorandum of agreement was signed Mr. Mann did not even know the approximate distance between Victoria and Barkley Sound. If you turn to the Times of October 19th, published before the announcement of the contract, Mr. Mann is shown at an interview he had with the Victoria Board of Trade to have asked how far it was, and upon being told he said: 'We can have a road through there with a grade of not more than four-tenths of one per cent.' In the morning he did not know how far it was to Barkley Sound, and before night he had entered into a contract to build a road with a grade of not more than four-tenths of one per cent. Do you think that is at all characteristic of a shrewd railway builder like Dan Mann?

"I do not know how far the people of Victoria are going to bite at this fake railway contract, but I cannot think it will be very far. So far as benefitting this city by a car ferry from English Bluff is concerned, it is the most transparent fake that could be placed before you. If you take a map and follow the route a train ferry would have to pursue it will puzzle you to see where it will benefit this city over anything it has now.

"The only thing that will give Victoria the railway connection which has long been its dream is either by a bridge across Seymour Narrows or a ferry across Johnstone Strait and a railway either along Bute Inlet or Knight Inlet and by way of Tatla to Yellow Head Pass, following the route of the Vancouver Island & Eastern or G. T. P., and it seems to me if Vancouver Island is ever to come to its own it is by concentrating itself on that. The Liberal party is pledged to aid that and would make it conditional on immediate construction.

"Premier McBride says he is going to put in a fair-wage clause; that he is not going to have yellow labor. You know what his record and that of his party is on that question. In 1908, on two different occasions when the Liberals proposed to put in, in one case a clause which would prohibit Asiatic labor, and in another to make the wages payable the current rate of wages payable to white workmen, in both cases our proposals were turned down by a unanimous vote of the Conservatives in the legislature. I was much surprised the other day when I found the Conservative members of the legislature which has just passed out of existence tell an audience in Vancouver that they had put in a clause whereby these ends would be effected. The clause is not in, and is not in because they refused to put it in.

"According to the premier and his attorney-general Mr. Mann has agreed to embody in the contract any other agreement in the interest of the province and people of British Columbia. It is the first time I have ever heard of Mr. Mann as a public philanthropist. The premier and attorney-general say Mr. Mann is prepared to do this, but the question is, will that willingness disappear after November 25th

What Is Behind Scenes?

CONVENTION HELD AT VANCOUVER

F. C. Wade Makes Slashing Attack on McBride Government.

(Special to the Times.)

Vancouver, Nov. 2.—"Oliver expects every man to do his duty." Not a man in the great gathering which crammed every inch of space in the O'Brien hall at the Liberal convention last evening but vowed as he looked at this motto hanging in great letters above the platform, that Oliver should not expect in vain. Never before has Vancouver Liberalism been launched upon the final stage of an election campaign with such happy augury as was the case last night, when five notable Liberals were nominated to carry the standard of the party into the Tory camps and win their way into the provincial Legislature at Victoria. Never before has the Liberal ticket been so strong as the following:

F. C. Wade.
J. H. Senkler.
George E. Macdonald.
J. Stables.
Alderman J. Campbell.

Never before have "the Solid Five" been in such danger. Never before have Vancouver Liberals sunk all their differences and in convention assembled nominated their men without a word, or even a murmur of dissent, and given them such a unanimous and enthusiastic send-off as no one present is likely to forget.

Even those who have been quietly working for many months past to organize the Liberal ranks of the city were taken by surprise. Not only was every chair in the O'Brien hall occupied, but every inch of standing room as well, and some of those present had perforce to listen to the proceedings from without the open door. At times such a tempest of enthusiasm swept through the hall as nearly carried the speakers off their feet, metaphorically speaking.

Every man was on his mettle, the movers and seconders of the nominations, as well as the candidates themselves, but, stirring as all the speakers were, the palm of the evening must go to Mr. F. C. Wade, who engaged in such a destructive criticism of the McBride government and delivered such a slashing attack upon them as will not be forgotten by those who listened to it.

Mr. Wade declared that a great fraud had been perpetrated on the electorate of the province by proclaiming an election the 19th of October and distributing the Canadian Northern agreement throughout the province at the end of the month, within four weeks of election day. How could they analyze such an agreement in that time?

BOY SLAYS COMPANION WHILE AT PLAY

Eight-year-old Lad Uses Gun With Fatal Effects.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 2.—Sammie Stewart, eight years old, is to-day inconsolable and weeps continually because of the death of his playmate, Freddie Bestman, aged five, whom he killed yesterday while the lads were engaged in playing "Wild West."

Placing the muzzle of a heavy repeating rifle within a foot of his companion's face, young Stewart pulled the trigger and the boy fell with a great hole through his chin and throat. The tragedy occurred at the Stewart home on Brandon avenue.

While the Stewarts and Bestmans have not been on a friendly footing, it is denied that the understandings extended to the children. Yesterday the Stewarts went driving, leaving their son at home. Sammie invited Freddie Bestman and another boy to play in the house. A Winchester rifle stood in a closet and Sammie Stewart says they were playing "Buffalo Bill," and he was endeavoring to show the other boys how the gun worked when it was discharged.

AVIATOR INJURED.

Flames Break Out in Aeroplane and Pilot Jumps From Machine.

Hamburg, Nov. 2.—Aviation week opened here yesterday with what nearly proved to be a fatal accident. Mechanic Pocket was making a flight when flames broke out in his aeroplane. A moment later the benzine exploded. Poquet succeeded in gliding to the earth, but the danger of burning to death was so pressing that he jumped from the aeroplane while it was yet some 1 or 20 feet from the ground. His injuries are not thought to be serious.

COURT HOUSE CONDEMNED.

New York, Nov. 2.—The criminal court building, which was erected 18 years ago at the cost of $2,000,000, was yesterday declared unsafe by the engineers of the bureau of buildings. The structure will be officially condemned in a day or two. Built on marshy ground, the eight story brick structure is cracked from basement to dome.

ALLEGED SWINDLER IS UNDER ARREST

Accused of Collecting Funds for Oriental Missionary Society.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Vancouver, Nov. 2.—For collecting money from the local Japanese and Chinese under the guise of a missionary agent, when it is alleged he had no right to solicit subscriptions because his credentials were stolen ones, Elmer J. Potts was arrested here early yesterday afternoon on information received from Oakland, Cal., two weeks ago.

Potts, who hails from Kansas City, says that he is a properly accredited agent of a native Oriental missionary society, but advices from the south state that while he once was agent for this organization, he was later ejected. The police in Oakland claim that he got the credentials of another man and then illegally collected a large amount of money from the Japanese and Chinese there, which never went into missionary coffers. No one knows where the man has been during the past two weeks, but it is conjectured that he has collected in the cities along the coast.

As the Vancouver police have been watching for him he could not have been in this city for more than a day or two. When arrested yesterday he only had a few dollars in his possession. In case local Orientals do not lay information, Potts will be held for the Oakland authorities.

EX-MAYOR MORLEY A CANDIDATE.

Ex-Mayor A. J. Morley this morning announced himself as a candidate in the approaching general provincial elections in the province, for the city of Victoria.

Mr. Morley will run as an independent, in opposition to the McBride government, whose policy he strongly disapproves.

FOUR SLAIN AND BODIES BURNED

REMAINS FOUND IN RUINS OF HOME

Robbery Believed to Have Been Motive for the Crime.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Bluefield, W. Va., Nov. 2.—The charred bodies of four members of the family of George Hood, an aged white man, were found yesterday in the ruins of the Hood home at Harper. The house had been destroyed by fire, the police believe, to cover up a quadruple murder. Robbery is thought to have been the motive for the crime.

From the ruins the blackened bodies of Washington Hood, aged 35 years; his sister, aged 27 years, and their niece, aged 12, were taken. The head of George Hood, 70 years of age, was almost severed.

WOMAN AND FOUR CHILDREN PERISH

Mother Loses Life While Trying to Save Her Little Ones.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 2.—Mrs. William Marlow, wife of a coal miner, and four children, were burned to death early to-day in a fire which destroyed her home in Penn township, near here.

The woman saved one of her children, but lost her life when she returned to the burning structure to save four other little ones.

Little Clyde Marlow, aged 12 years, gave up his life along with his mother in an attempt to rescue the smaller children. After the lad had helped his mother carry Lycle, eight years of age, from the burning structure, both rushed back for Isa, four years old; William, aged three years, and Glen, an infant six months old. They had hardly entered the house before the structure collapsed and in addition to the mother and four children also were incinerated.

Marlow, with two elder sons, went to work in the mines early this morning. Soon after they had left the house a kitchen lamp overturned and the oil set fire to the kitchen and the flames rapidly spread to other parts of the house.

ALASKANS DECIDE TO CLIMB MOUNT McKINLEY

Will Settle Controversy as to Whether Cook Reached the Summit.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Fairbanks, Alaska, Nov. 2.—A party of five Alaskans, all familiar with Mount McKinley, has been organized to climb the peak this winter and put an end to the controversy as to whether Dr. Cook reached the summit. The party will start November 15th. The expedition is being financed here.

FIREMAN OF "ROCKET" DIES IN IOWA

Was Chosen by Stephenson to Work on His Locomotive.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 2.—Constantly grieving over the death of his wife, which occurred six weeks ago, caused the death of Edward Entwhistle, fireman on the Rocket, the first locomotive ever built by George Stephenson, which ran between Manchester and Liverpool. Entwhistle was 94 years of age. He was born in England and at the age of 16 was chosen by Stephenson to be his fireman on the famous engine.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—A Grand Trunk brakeman, John McLaren, narrowly escaped being shot through the chest as a Parry Sound train approached Ottawa on Saturday evening. A man fired a .22 rifle shot through the rear car, grazing McLaren's chest and passing up the aisle to the wall of the smoker. It is thought the action was deliberate. The police are investigating.

SENTENCE AFFIRMED BY COURT OF APPEALS

Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison Guilty of Violating Injunction.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—The Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia to-day affirmed the jail sentence of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers; and Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, convicted of contempt on a charge of violating an injunction by publishing the name of the Buck Stove & Range Company as "unfair."

The sentence was imposed by Justice Wright in the Supreme Court of the District of Washington, and the appeal was taken to the Court of Appeals of the district, which handed down its decision to-day.

The sentence of Gompers is for one year in jail, John Mitchell is sentenced to nine months in jail and Morrison is sentenced to six months.

The opinion of the Court of Appeals was written by Associate Justice Van Ordel, and was concurred in by Associate Justice Robb. Chief Justice Sherard dissented.

"Individual interest dwindles into insignificance when compared with the higher principles involved in this cause," declared Justice Van Orsdel. "The fundamental issue is whether the constitutional agency of the government shall be obeyed or defied.

"The mere fact that the defendants are officers of organized labor in America adds to the gravity of the situation, but it should not be permitted to influence the result.

"If an organization of citizens, however large, may disobey the mandates of the courts, the same reasoning would render them subject to individual defiance.

"One has not a greater right in the eyes of the law than the other. Both are subject to the law. Neither is above it."

In his opinion Justice Van Orsdel says:

"We have a deep sense of the importance of the case. Three distinguished citizens, leaders in a great cause for the improvement and uplift of their fellow men, with a larger following probably than was ever marshalled under a single leadership in any philanthropic movement, are at the bar of justice, to answer the charge of disobedience of the order of the court. We are not unmindful of the high position the defendants have attained, but their intelligence forbids the in-

COAL COMPANY IS EXONERATED

JURY'S FINDING ON EXTENSION DISASTER

Cave is Held to Have Been Cause of the Explosion.

(Special to the Times.)

Ladysmith, Nov. 2.—The coroner's jury, which sat in connection with the Extension mine disaster, early this morning completed its duties, returning a verdict that the men met their death from an explosion caused by a cave, which liberated dust and gas. The coal company and the officials of the company were fully exonerated from all blame in connection with it.

The jury sat until about 2.30 this morning before reaching a verdict. The jury's finding in the case contradicts the theory of a blow-out shot.

The jury retired about 2 o'clock in the afternoon and did not agree upon a verdict until after twelve hours.

CONFESSES MURDER.

Youth Says He Killed Boy and Burned Body in Ash Barrel.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 2.—Alvin Cohen, 17 years of age, arrested on a charge of larceny yesterday, unexpectedly confessed that he murdered Alexander Boenig, four years old, two years ago and burned the body in an ash barrel.

The confession of Cohen clears a mystery upon which the police have worked unceasingly since Boenig was murdered.

CITY MARSHAL SLAIN.

Shot By Robber While Trying to Arrest Companion.

Carroll, Iowa, Nov. 2.—Patrick Hatton, city marshal, was shot and instantly killed to-day by one of two robbers who had robbed a house here and had fled in a buggy. Marshal Hatton gave chase and overtook the men at Glidden, seven miles away. While he was grappling with one of the men, the other shot him in the back. A posse now is pursuing the two men.

PROPOSED NEW OFFICERS.

Montreal, Nov. 2.—At the next session of parliament the C.P.R. Co. will apply for an act providing, among other things, that the directors be empowered to enact by-laws for the election or appointment of two more vice-presidents of the company. At the company's office it was stated that the new offices so created might not be filled at once. There are at present four vice-presidents of the railway.

SOME POSERS FROM MR. PATERSON.

To the Editor of the Times:

In replying to the objections I raised to the McBride railway policy in an interview with you yesterday the Colonist this morning attempts to create an impression that I was in error in stating that if the province guaranteed the Canadian Northern bonds in this province and obtained a first mortgage in return, that the Canadian Northern could not raise the remainder of the amount necessary to build their line, having no collateral to offer.

To meet my objection it is pointed out by the Colonist that first mortgages have been given to some of the prairie province governments by the Canadian Northern in return for the guaranteeing of (in one instance) only $20,000 a mile and the deduction is made that if it was possible to finance the road there after giving a first mortgage in return for $20,000 a mile it will be possible to do so here on a guarantee of $35,000 a mile.

It should not be necessary for me to remind your readers that the circumstances are as far apart as the poles. On the prairies the Canadian Northern can build approximately for $13,000 a mile. A guarantee of that amount, plus other aid, sometimes in the form of a Dominion cash subsidy, sometimes of municipal aid, and sometimes of land subsidies, makes it an easy matter to build the entire road for the aggregate of subventions obtained. The Canadian Northern can then without any embarrassment grant a first mortgage to the provinces.

In British Columbia the situation is entirely different. There are portions of the Fraser river section which will cost not $13,000 but $100,000 a mile. The average cost of this road is set by Mr. Mann himself at $66,000 a mile if they build on four-tenths of one per cent. grade. The question which the electors have to decide is how he is going to raise the difference between $35,000 and $66,000 a mile if he grants the province a first mortgage. I fancy Mr. Mann, who is a practical railway construction man, will not dismiss any question so airily or as easily as has the editor of the Colonist. Until he does answer it the electors will have to accept Mr. McBride's promise that he will obtain a first mortgage, with great reservation. It is, in fact, a promise he cannot implement, and if ever the suggestion was offered to Mr. Mann it will be noticed he has omitted committing himself to it. In other words there is not a line about first mortgage in the agreement, and it is on the agreement that Mr. McBride is seeking the favorable decision of the electors.

As to the suggestion that I should accept Mr. McBride's word against the official document, I have only to say that in common with a good many other people in British Columbia I have not forgotten Mr. McBride's first official act as premier of British Columbia and the circumstances attending it. A man who so flagrantly broke his promise to his own parliamentary supporters cannot complain if the electors refuse to believe that he will be any more scrupulous in keeping his promises to them.

The most important business to come before the board is the matter of arranging that a portion of the North Ward Park shall be available for athletic sports at all seasons of the year. Considerable feeling has been aroused because of the circumstances that a few weeks ago a number of boys were prevented from playing football on the seeded portion of the park, which point they had sought to escape the mud. The feeling is general that the park is primarily a playground, and that it should be available to the boys at all times.

STATEMENT BY WM. WAINWRIGHT

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC AND B. C. BRANCH LINES

Ready to Treat With Government on Question of Early Construction.

Speaking of the proposed government's railway policy, W. Wainwright, 2nd vice-president of the Grand Trunk Pacifice railway, now in the city, stated that whilst the terminus of the line and its ocean port will be Prince Rupert, it is only natural they should look to offering additional facilities by branches into Southern British Columbia.

At present his company has 100 miles from Prince Rupert, eastward along the Skeena river, almost completed, and an additional 200 miles is now under contract. At the same time another contract has been entered into from the end of the prairie section at Wolf Creek, which is one hundred and twenty miles west of Edmonton. Branch lines are also under construction, both in Alberta and Saskatchewan. It will readily be seen that the road is already making such headway through British Columbia in both directions, that co-operation on the part of the provincial government is all that is necessary to ensure railway facilities to meet the growing requirements of the country being furnished without any question.

In regard to the question of labor, it must be borne in mind that time is the essence of the contract between the Dominion government and the company, and if there is not sufficient labor in the country to complete the construction of the work within the prescribed time, it goes without saying that either something must be done to meet the difficulty or an extension of the contract time must be granted. Sir Rivers-Wilson's recent remarks on this question were not intended as an argument in favor of importing yellow labor, but merely pointing out, that unless additional men could be obtained over and above what are now available, then the Grand Trunk Pacific road could not be completed within the specified time named in the contract, and the advantage of such increased transportation facilities would be deferred. What does it mean to the province to have this line connected up with the East? The Grand Trunk railway, which is the pioneer line of "Old Canada," reaches at the front door every place in Ontario and Quebec. It reaches twelve ports on the Georgian Bay and Lake Huron; and what does this mean as against an absence of such connections? From 75 to 90 per cent. of the population of Ontario is located on Grand Trunk lines, and it has by far more extensive terminal facilities in Ontario, at all large cities, than any other line. In addition the company owns extensive elevator and yard facilities at Montreal, Portland, Quebec, and reaches through its connections St. John, Halifax, Boston and New York. The value of the opening up of such connections to the province of British Columbia cannot be over estimated, and any railway policy launched by the government certainly should not be framed without fully considering all these important facts, so necessary to the development of the province.

Mr. Wainwright advises to get in all the railways possible and commends the Premier's policy in this respect, but adds: "Do not simply make a paper programme, which may never be realized. Let the assistance be made in such a manner that it will commend the earlier construction of the roads that are needed, by such interests as are able to obtain the necessary funds to finance the same. It must not be forgotten that any endorsation of the bonds by the government only provides a small portion of the money necessary to build and equip roads in an up-to-date manner, and therefore considerable credit is necessary over and above the amount raised by means of the guarantee of the government."

Mr. Wainwright drew attention to a remark of the attorney-general in his recent speech, where he is reported to have said that the Canadian Northern proposition had this advantage, that it would reach its destination through the province on a four-tenths gradient, whereas the Grand Trunk Pacific would have a one per cent. grade. He evidently was under a misapprehension and reversed the actual facts. It is well known that the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, from Fort William to Prince Rupert is established on a four-tenths grade throughout its entire line, save and excepting 20 miles in the mountains, where a one per cent. grade had to be accepted; in other words, even the mountains are ignored, and the line will be exceptional on the continent in this respect. The Canadian Northern, he is quite sure, are not responsible for this statement.

VOTING IS HEAVY IN SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 2.—Both the managers of Francis J. Heney and Charles M. Fickert, candidates for district attorney, claim that the early voting to-day favors their candidate.

The union labor vote is out in force, as the building trades unions have declared a holiday and many other unions have taken a day off.

The managers of P. H. McCarthy, union labor nominee for mayor, claim that he already has a heavy lead over his opponents, but the Republicans are claiming an easy victory for William Crocker, while the Democrats are enthusiastically predicting a landslide for Dr. T. B. W. Leland, claiming that the whole independent voters have gone over to him on account of his declaration for Heney and the graft prosecution.

LIBERAL LEADER IS ON ISLAND

JOHN OLIVER TO SPEND SOME TIME HERE

The Situation in Different Parts of Province—New Candidate.

John Oliver, leader of the opposition, will spend the week on the island. Today he is in the city, to-morrow he will attend the city and Saanich Liberal conventions, on Thursday he will visit Esquimalt constituency, and the week-end he is likely to spend in Alberni and other island constituencies.

Situation in Saanich.

Thomas Brydon, of Saanich, who was in town this morning, speaking of the situation in his district, said he considered the prospects for electing a Liberal were very bright. The convention which would be held to-morrow night would choose whoever they considered to be the strongest man, and whoever was chosen would receive the hearty support of all Liberals in the district, and also of some who were not Liberals. The nomination convention of the Conservatives was quite a spectacular event, but that meant nothing. There was no doubt in his mind but that the Liberals would win out on this occasion.

To Oppose Dr. Young.

(Special to the Times.)

Atlin, B. C., Nov. 2.—Thomas Kearns, Spruce Creek mines, was nominated by the Liberal party of Atlin at a meeting held Saturday night to oppose Hon. Dr. Young, the government candidate in the provincial election.

Mr. Kearns is very popular along the creeks and well liked in Atlin, and his victory over the provincial secretary is expected.

Kamloops Conservatives.

Kamloops, B.C., Nov. 2.—At the Conservative convention held yesterday afternoon there was a close contest between J. Pearson Shaw and Mayor Robinson for the nomination, the former only winning out by two votes. Although Mayor Robinson took the chair at the evening meeting and professed his intention of working hard for Mr. Shaw, there are a great many friends of his who are not at all pleased with the choice made, and will not be at all active in the campaign. In addition there are scores of Conservatives who do not like the government railway policy, following their late member, Hon. F. J. Fulton.

The Liberal candidate, H. M. Vasey, is most popular, and is developing great strength in the riding.

The ferries will call at Port Simpson, Naas Bay, Stewart, Masset, Skidegate, Queen Charlotte City, Lockport, Ikeda Bay, Jedway, Collision Bay and Porcher Creek, then back to Prince Rupert.

GEORGE PREPARES TO ABDICATE

KING OF GREECE BUSY WINDING UP AFFAIRS

Country is Now Nnder the Rule of the Military League.

Athens, Greece, Nov. 2.—The early abdication of King George is looked upon as a practical certainty. Since the attempted revolt of navy men last week, his Majesty has been busy winding up his affairs and to-day it is reported that he is only looking for a favorable opportunity to quit the throne without too seriously disorganizing the government in which, despite the ingratitude with which he thinks the country has treated him, he still takes a deep and friendly interest.

Greece is really in the hands of neither the king nor the national assembly, but is being governed by the secret organization known as the military league. It is said that the country would be safer under an actual individual dictatorship, as its ruler in such a case would at least feel some sense of responsibility.

Since the leaders of the military league succeeded in having the crown prince removed from his military command, the assembly has been an absolutely pliant instrument in the hands of the organization.

R. L. BORDEN ON IMPERIAL DEFENCE

Says Canada Cannot Hold Aloof in Time of Danger.

Toronto, Nov. 2.—R. L. Borden, the leader of the Dominion opposition, addressed a largely attended meeting of the centre and south Conservative clubs last night on the question of "Imperial Defence."

After referring to the blessing the British flag has been to mankind all over the world, and to the ruin which would come to every part of the Empire should its naval supremacy be lost, Mr. Borden said in part:

"The integrity of the Empire can best be preserved by co-operation in defence and trade. Speaking only of the former, Canada cannot escape this first responsibility of nationhood, nor does she seek to escape it. It is said that she is in no danger of attack, and therefore no preparation or co-operation is necessary. So long as we remain in the Empire, so long as we fly the Empire's flag, Canada cannot hold aloof in time of danger. The vast bulk of our foreign commerce is oceanborne, and as our produce increases so also will our commerce increase and develop. Is it not worth some reasonable measure of protection? Is the Empire liable to attack? Regard the ominous signs of the times. Read the solemn utterances of the ablest statesmen of Britain, and tell me whether you honestly believe that the Mother Country could safely dismantle her fleets and disband her armies. Can we honestly share and enjoy all these blessings, the privileges and the benefits of British citizenship, and shun or evade its high responsibilities?

"Such a belief would be inconceivable. The will of the people must prevail, but I believe that it will affirm what parliament with unanimous voice has declared, that the responsibility of co-operation in naval defence must be taken.

"The resolution proposed by the Prime Minister was modified at our instance in several important respects, of which I need only name one. In its original form it declared against any money contribution to the Imperial treasury for naval defence. Its modified form permits, and indeed authorizes in time of need, what one might call an emergency money contribution. This modification we deemed necessary because, under present conditions, the only immediate aid that Canada could bring to the naval defence of the Empire in time of serious peril would be of this nature. Whether any such peril is immiment must be known to the government, and upon them will lie a heavy responsibility if disaster or humiliation should ensue through their fault. I think, notwithstanding all the criticisms made on that resolution, that it marks the most distinctive advance towards co-operation by Canada in the defence of the whole Empire that we have seen for the past 25 years at any rate.

"There is a legitimate difference of opinion with regard to this question of co-operation in naval defence. We are told that there is some doctrine known to international law, and liable to be enforced upon this continent—the Monroe doctrine—which would protect Canada in time of peril. The men who would trust to that doctrine, or who think they could have the temerity to invoke protection from the United States without making a return, and a pretty substantial return, are proceeding on an assumption so absolutely unfounded that I am prepared to dismiss it without any argument whatever."

As for the suggestion that Canada might remain at peace with an enemy of the Empire, Mr. Borden said that absurdity could not go further. Mr. Borden referred to the argument advanced in certain quarters that the building of a Canadian navy would open the door to extravagance and corruption in the handling of the people's money. He admitted that there had been wanton and wilful waste of public money, but the remedy is not to be found in any abnegation or abandonment of the duty of government, otherwise we should hand over to Great Britain all our great spending departments for better administration.

CONSTIPATION

IRON AND STEEL OUTPUT IS HEAVY

Railways of United States Are Placing Large Orders.

New York, Nov. 1.—Another week of heavy transactions in iron and steel products has established a new record of sales for October. The output of both pig iron and steel ingots has been the heaviest ever known. Consumption of finished steel products is also increasing, but it is difficult to determine to what extent, as contracts are placed largely for future delivery. The railroads have continued to be the most important support of the steel works, placing very heavy orders for rails, cars and locomotives. Interest was centered mainly in the New York Central purchases, which included nearly 19,000 cars, 325 locomotives and 166,000 tons of rails.

It is estimated the railroads had been responsible either directly or indirectly for 2,000,000 tons of finished products orders in October. Manufacturing industries have placed orders for semi-finished and finished material aggregating 1,000,000 tons.

The demand for wire products and tin plates has been especially heavy this season—in fact, all kinds of finished material with the single exception of fabricated structural steel have rolled up to a very heavy tonnage. Fabricated materials, however, has been unsettled during the last 10 days and prices sagged because of the efforts to secure new business by some contractors who still have unfilled tonnage of plain material contracted for with the mills at low prices.

CASE OF HOOK WORM IN SEATTLE HOSPITAL

Physician Says Patient Will Soon Be Restored to Normal Health.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 2.—Local scientists and physicians are taking deep interest in a case of the hook worm disease, for the eradication of which John D. Rockefeller has just given $1,000,000 to be used in the Southern states, and which has developed at the Seattle city hospital. The victim of the peculiar disease is John Hoffinger, 23 years of age and a laborer. Hoffinger, who recently came here from Texas, wandered into the hospital three days ago and a diagnosis by Dr. Greene disclosed the nature of his ailment. This is the only case of the kind ever recorded in this city, and lectures on the subject will be held at the hospital training school.

Dr. Green says that the malady is not incurable and predicted that it would not take long to restore the patient to normal health, now that the cause of his illness has been determined by the finding of the parasite.

DYING OF CHOLERA.

Local Physician Says Thousands Dying in Europe Can Be Saved With Proper Medicine.

What is it that keeps down cholera, cramps, and summer complaints in America? Ask any doctor or live druggist and he will tell you "Nerviline." Just fancy, a million bottles are sold every year to people who use Nerviline for stomach disorder, cramps, flatulence, and summer complaint. For fifty years in most Canadian homes no other pain-relieving medicine but Nerviline is kept. Nothing cures the aches, pains and sickness of the entire family so quickly as Nerviline.

LETTER NO. 4672

"As far back as I can remember, at least 50 years ago, there was never a time that our house was without 'Nerviline.' In the summer time, when the children ate green apples and got sick with diarrhoea and cramps, it was Nerviline that cured them. My father used Nerviline frequently to cure gas on his stomach and acute indigestion. There are but few minor ailments that Nerviline does not cure, and I know of no medicine so useful; in fact, so indispensable around the home as 'Nerviline.'"

This letter, writen by Mrs. N. C. Butcher, a well known resident in Battersea, shows the high opinion entertained of Nerviline by those who have used it constantly for nearly half a century.

You'll never regret using Nerviline. Get it to-day, keep it on hand for an accident or sudden case of sickness in your home. Refuse anything else offered you instead of Nerviline, 25c. per bottle, or five for $1.00. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

MUST SERVE SIXTEEN MONTHS IN PENITENTIARY

Man Convicted of Using Mails for Fraudulent Purposes.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 2.—George B. Cheney, formerly vice-president of the Standard Oil Promotion and Invesment company, who was convicted of using the mails for fraudlent purposes, was sentenced to sixteen months in San Quentin penitentiary yesterday by United States District Judge De Haven. The investment company was proved to have been a fake concern. In addition he was find $500.

Cheney was first indicted for fraud in 1901. He got wind of the proceedings and disappeared. After hunting him for eight years the federal authorities caught him in Philadelphia and brought him to the coast.

NEW YORK'S GOVERNOR MAY CONTROL PARTY

C. E. Hughes Will Be Candidate for Next Presidential Nomination.

New York, Nov. 2.—Governor Charles E. Hughes is in a position to secure and hold the Republican organization in this state so that it will be solidly behind him in the next national convention. For the first time since he became a prominent figure in the politics of the state, he will be able to take over the leadership of the party organization if he appoints a practical politician, loyal to him, to succeed State Comptroller Gaus, who died Sunday, while on a hunting trip in Canada.

The Comptroller commands about the same patronage as the governor and therefore if Hughes puts in a man capable of "organizing" the entire state patronage will be in the hands of the new Hughes machine.

Such a move also would give the governor control of the legislature and make it possible for him to force the passage of his direct primary measure next January.

Ever since he assumed the office the "machine leaders" of the Republican party have been against Hughes on most of his proposals and every point he has gained has been won after a hard struggle.

The governor's friends say that he will be a candidate for the presidental nomination again in 1912. To make a strong showing in the convention he will have to have the state organization behind him.

WRECK VICTIMS.

PRODUCE THE PROOF.

Premier McBride contends, and his organs of course support his contention with a great cloud of words unsubstantiated by proof, that under his agreement with the Canadian Northern Railway Company the intention is to indemnify the province against any liability in connection with the government guarantee of bonds and interest, the former to the amount of twenty-one million dollars and the latter to the amount of eight hundred and forty thousand dollars per annum. They say the security of the provincial treasury will be a first mortgage upon the portion of the line to be constructed in British Columbia and a covenant covering the entire system of the company east and west of the mountains. People who thoroughly understand present-day methods of financing railway enterprises and the capital cost of building a railway through a mountainous country cannot comprehend the manner in which the Premier is going to implement this pledge. Those who are familiar with the system pursued by Mackenzie & Mann in all their undertakings hold such a statement in derision.

There are certain admitted facts in connection with this matter that it may be well for the public to bear in mind. Mackenzie & Mann do not put their hands in their own pockets and draw forth the money to build railways. They are reputed to be rich men and they may be capable of doing this; but they do not do it. They go to the money markets of the world and borrow the money which they put in all their undertakings. Such being the fact, there is only one condition under which the Canadian Northern Railway could give the province of British Columbia a first mortgage as security against that liability of twenty-one millions of dollars and eight hundred and forty thousand dollars. That condition is that thirty-five thousand dollars a mile will be sufficient to build the road. If the line costs fifty thousand dollars a mile to build, the first mortgage given British Columbia would preclude all possibility of the company borrowing the additional fifteen thousand a mile in the markets of the world. Is that not a perfectly correct statement of the case? Could capital be procured for such a purpose on a second mortgage?

It may be said that to take such a position is to doubt the word of the Premier. Is it not possible that the Premier has been misled by the astute Mr. Mann? There is only one way in which Mr. McBride can establish the proposition he has put forward. He says in the contract which will be executed based upon the meagre memoranda signed by Mr. Mann the interests of the province will be amply protected. He said in the first place that there was a contract and that it would be made public in due time. But we shall let that statement pass, as it was probably made upon the spur of the moment and without due consideration of its significance. What the people want is convincing evidence that Premier McBride is strong enough and independent enough to meet Mr. Mann in conference and insist upon the execution of a contract that will protect the province against all liability. There is no such evidence in the data the Premier has caused to be published.

Thus far there has only been made public a memorandum signed by Mr. Mann. The existence of that document is circumstantial evidence of the execution of another paper of a complementary character. There is no doubt whatever that Mr. Mann has in his possession a contract or agreement signed by the Premier on behalf of the government. That statement will contain a memorandum of what the government is prepared to do for Mr. Mann in return for what Mr. Mann has done and is doing for the government. Why has that document not been produced also? The Premier has been compelled to make only half of the "contract" public. We must not be understood as questioning his honesty, although his own political friends have accused him of lacking in frankness and candor. But Mr. McBride has fully demonstrated that he considers everything fair in playing the political game as distinguished from what men of a different stamp consider statesmanship. There is consequently a possibility that in this matter the Premier has been neither frank nor candid with the Lieut.-Governor. The public wants to see a copy of that paper Mr. Mann carried away in his inside pocket. They look for protection to the authority who has been placed in office for that special purpose. The "contract" cannot be intelligently discussed or satisfactorily understood unless it is made acquainted with what the party of the first part has undertaken to do in return for the obligations assumed by the party of the second part.

As for the alleged covenant between the government and Mr. Mann that the liability of the province shall be a charge against the earnings of the whole of the Canadian Northern Railway Company, we fear that is so much buncombe. The covenant can at the best cover only the surplus earnings of the eastern section of the road. The Canadian Northern is smothered with liabilities to other provinces just as it will be saddled with liabilities to the province of British Columbia should the agreement between Mr. Mann and the Premier be carried out. It has never showed a surplus that we have ever heard of after meeting all its statutory and other obligations. If the "covenant" should ever be committed to paper, its value would be just of about the value of the paper it was written upon.

The New Westminster News puts the case concisely and conclusively when it thus sums up the case:

"Of course it will be said by the friends of the government that this guarantee is a mere matter of form, and that the province is not likely to be called upon to pay. But no sane business man would assume a guarantee liability without being prepared to meet it. British Columbia has had some costly experiences of this kind of thing before, and if this tremendous liability is undertaken she must be prepared to liquidate it. No one will pretend that the province can enter upon an obligation of such magnitude without seriously imperilling its credit and prospects."

KETTLE VALLEY RAILWAY.

There is a story in conection with the Kettle Valley Railway, which has been subsidized by the government as part of its railway policy. As the Midway & Vernon line the road was subsidized by both the Dominion and the provincial governments some years ago. Its construction was admitted to be essential to the industrial and commercial development of the country through which it was projected. A construction company was formed. This corporation had made all arrangements to go on with the work, and had actually spent a considerable amount on preliminary construction on the strength of the Dominion and provincial subsidies. This Midway & Vernon Construction Company had arranged for the capital necessary to push the line to completion, the courts having decided that the provincial subsidy (whose validity had been contested) were in force and ought to be paid, when the then Finance Minister, visiting in Montreal, announced in financial circles that the claim would be contested. It was manifestly useless for a private company to enter the courts against a government with the resources of the province behind it. The capitalists became alarmed and withdrew from the undertaking. A considerable number of people in the Okanagan Valley lost heavily as a result. The charter of the railway lost its value and passed into the hands of a great corporation doing business in Canada. The McBride government renews the subsidy as part of its railway policy, as we have already said. Attorney-General Bowser told an audience in the interior the other day that the government recognized the claim of the original Midway & Vernon Construction Company to be reimbursed for its expenditures — that it had arranged as a condition of the new company receiving a subsidy of five thousand dollars a mile that the members of the original company should be so reimbursed. Now the subsidy for the Kettle Valley Railway Company is the only complete feature of the government's railway policy. It has been printed, and there is not a word in it about the Midway & Vernon Construction Company being paid back the amount of its expenditures. The Attorney-General knows this, but he probably thought the people of the interior had not seen the "contract" and did not know it. Mr. Bowser's periods of mendacity usually manifest themselves just on the evening previous to polling day. He is evidently more reckless than ever. But the government which practically ruined some of the members of the Midway & Vernon Construction Company should make some suitable atonement for the injury it wantonly inflicted upon that company.

HIGHWAYMAN AND LOOT.

What is this we read about the Cariboo stage hold-up by a highwayman while coming out with the political emissary of the McBride government on board? We can hardly credit the story. If it is true the robber betrayed most unaccountable ignorance of his business. He must have been an amateur. He should have attacked the stage when it was going in with the aforesaid emissary on board, and then he would assuredly have become an outlaw to some temporary purpose. The agent of the government who visited the constituencies is known to have had an interview with the head centre of the "organization" in Victoria immediately previous to his departure on a mysterious but very important mission, and there is little doubt that he carried something of considerable value from both an intrinsic and a political point of view with him. What a sensation, and also what consternation, there would have been in the ranks of truly loyal and unquestionably honorable Tories who are on the "inside" and know all, had that sack, essential to the success of the political game—of staying in when you are in—been carried off by a bandit! Perhaps there may have been something left in the bag to be distributed in other constituencies, however, so that the enterprising highwayman may not have gone empty away. Of course there is no suspicion of collusion between the robber and the emissary. The latter's honor and integrity are above suspicion. If he had been a mere common man sore temptation might have overcome him. We have heard of such things happening under circumstances in many respects similar.

The first prospects indicated a comparatively quiet election. But the first prospects were deceitful. Ex-Mayor Morley is in the field as an independent candidate in Victoria in opposition to the slate of the McBride government. The Liberals of Vancouver have put up five men of acknowledge strength headed by a political warhorse of the standing and reputation of Mr. Wade. The opposition is confident and enthusiastic. The announcement of Premier McBride's railway policy has enkindled no fires of optimism. It has fallen flat in the circles in which it has not created consternation. The government has been shaken to its very roots by the resignation of the only two ministers in whom the public had confidence, who were considered something more than mere political gamesters intent upon "staying in" at any cost. Sounds of going can already be heard.

The Liberals of Vancouver are to be heartily felicitated upon the exceptionally strong candidates they have put in the field. In point of ability and standing they are probably the best that heve ever solicited the suffrages of the electors of the Terminal City. F. C. Wade, K.C., and J. H. Senkler, K.C., are known from one end of Canada to the other, and wherever they are known they are personally popular. The local reputation of Ald. Cambell and Messrs. Macdonald and Stables is just as good as that of their widely known colleagues. The Liberals of Vancouver have unquestionably picked out a winning quintette who will prove an ornament to the Legislature and by reason of their talents do splendid service to British Columbia.

* * *

John Jardine has again been nominated by the Liberals of Esquimalt to contest that attractive, prosperous and promising district on behalf of their party. The strong fight Mr. Jardine waged in the election of 1907 against the most popular man the Conservatives could put up was one of the surprises of the campaign. The candidate is confident of success on the 25th. He is strongly supported, and appears to have a comparatively easy task in overcoming Mr. Helmcken.

* * *

The Premier is going to run in Yale as well as in Victoria. It is not an unusual thing for leaders to contest two constituencies, we admit. But in this case the probability is that the first member for Victoria, who promised to do great things for his constituency and has done nothing at all, thinks it just as well as he should have the advantage of two throws. Stuart Henderson, who will undoubtedly be the Liberal candidate in Yale, has nothing to fear from the opposition of the Premier.

DECIDES PEARY REACHED NORTH POLE

Geographical Society's Finding is Separate From Cook Controversy.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—That Commander Robert E. Peary reached the North Pole is the unanimous decision of the committee of the National Geographical Society appointed to investigate the explorers' claims.

The report is being drawn up to-day and will be submitted to the full committee on research to-morow. At that time it will be formally adopted by the society and published. Immediately after the receipt of the official announcement of the society's finding, Peary will start on a lecture tour.

The finding of the society is entirely separate from the Cook controversy, and the society will not attempt to decide which reached the Pole first.

What Other People Think

A MANN MADE POLICY

To the Editor:—Parturiunt montes," (for six long years) et nascitur ridiculus mus." Which being freely paraphrased (not translated) signifies: the McBride aggregation has been in travail and has made a most ridiculous muss of its railway policy. Let us consider it a moment. In the first place the obligation undertaken is a very serious one—a 4 per cent. guarantee on $35,000 per mile for 600 miles; and yet the province might carry it if the subsidized road were intended to run through an undeveloped region capable of settlement and unserved by any other railway. But this Mann-McBride road will open up very little undeveloped unserved territory. From the eastern boundary of the province it will parallel for some distance the Grand Trunk Pacific—a road being built under Dominion assistance and without a cent of cost, aye rather with great profit, financial and otherwise, to the province. It leaves this road to reach the North Thompson river, and follows that river to Kamloops. An off-map estimate of the new country which will thus be opened up is 150 miles; for of course for many miles north of Kamloops to the coast this road will come into competition with the Canadian Pacific through a country fully opened up and well served by our first and as yet the best of the transcontinental roads. This will be a costly piece of railway; and is it needed? Not in the slightest degree. Through the canyons of the Fraser there is no chance for any more settlement than is already there. And on the lower Fraser competition with the Hill road—the V., V. & E., now being built without a subsidy of any kind. But supposing there should be a combination of the two interests (which is very likely) will it pay the province to undertake this enormous obligation to ensure such a combination? No, a thousand times no. I leave the English Bluff bluff and the bit of Island road (set to catch the Victoria vote) to be dealt with by those at the coast who are perfectly capable of riddling it with the hottest of hot shot.

This brief outline of the mainland scheme must convince every reader that McBride has succeeded admirably in antagonizing the C. P. R., for surely that great corporation will not tamely accept the needless paralleling of its main line for a distance of more than 300 miles. The pitiful sop of the Kettle river to Nicola subsidy will not salve the sore occasioned by the Kamloops to Vancouver duplication. Besides the C. P. R. had planned the Midway-Nicola connection of itself. In the case of the V., V. & E., whether there is to be hostility or combination, the act of the government is entirely without justification. The needs of the south-of-the-Fraser country are being amply provided for by an electric line in addition to the V., V. & E. Then also the Grand Trunk Pacific surely cannot look upon this favoritism to its rival with equanimity. From that source, therefore, McBride cannot look for any help—hardly neutrality—in the pending elections.

Together this mad act of our self-adoring premier must be met by the covert, if not open, hostility of the C. P. R., of the G. T. P., and of every thoughtful elector in the province. It has already cost him the loss of the two best men in his cabinet—an occurrence which should have given him pause, if anything under heaven could have done it. But, no, Richard was "joined to his idols," and he let his ministers go. Wonder what his twenty million guarantee cost Dan Mann! If ever there was Folly exemplified in action, it was surely that of the premier's choice between Tatlow and Fulton on the one side and the notorious Bowser on the other; between caution and sanity in the one case and blustering rashness in the other; for without question the bragful, fibful Bowser will prove more of a hindrance than help to him in his now hopeless campaign. This surely is a case where the ancient Roman aphorism is peculiarly applicable: "Quos Deus vult perdere prius dementat"; "those whom God would destroy He first makes mad." There never was an instance in the history of the province where this saying so fully met the circumstances as it does in this present excuseless folly of a blinded and game-mad premier, now on the rush to inevitable destruction.

But to substitute constructive criticism for a moment; could McBride (if he had honest desire for the public good) have done better for the province? Most assuredly he could. Let us put it briefly: a road from Tete Jaune Cache cutting through the country about midway between the lines of the C. P. R. and the G. T. P. would have opened up the richest parts of our great province—rich in mines, in timber, in stock raising, and in agriculture. To have served the mining section of old Cariboo, the agricultural valley of the upper Fraser, the great stock and fruit growing Chilcotin country, and to have passed thence to the Island and on to Victoria; such a scheme would have shown statesmanship and wisdom, would have antagonized no existing interests, and would have been of greater value to the province than all the vast guarantee assumed under the Mann-McBride folly. But this would have meant acting in concert and agreement with the Dominion government—and McBride in his haughty folly would have none of that. Very well, he has sealed his own fate, and a good thing for the province he has doomed himself and his "rump" cabinet to merited destruction. All this is what he would call "playing the game" of politics, but now it is not going to be a "stay-in" game. The end of his play is in sight, for when a politician's highest conception of statecraft is to play a game of tricks, quibbles, and deceit—and perhaps graft—he is sure sooner or later to overreach himself; and that is just what "Tricky Dick" by the help of the heavy-weight Dan, has succeeded in doing. The "divine right" of the Tory to rule in our province is being called in question; and the doubt is suggested by the deeds of the Tory premier himself.

This Tory extremity, therefore, is the Liberal opportunity. Let the followers of Leader Oliver everywhere bestir themselves with a confident energy; and before the close of the year will be inaugurated an era of honest government instead of the present clipped combination of tricky politicians, puny Ottawa-fighters, and desperate party gamsters.

PROPOSED NEW THEATRE.

To the Editor: Having signed my name to a subscription paper as subscriber of $1,000 towards an improved theatre, on representations that a certain (if somewhat below current rates) interest on the investment could be counted on, I have read Mr. Boscowitz's letter in a recent issue of yours with much interest. The figures and facts he gives are not speculative, but are based on actual results from years of experience and have completely disillusioned me as to any prospect of a dividend in a theatre corporation or syndicate. If and when a new theatre is built in Victoria it should not only have large seating capacity, interior decoration and stage improvement, but be architecturally an imposing building. Until we are ready to erect such a building we had better pause. To erect and equip such a theatre, plus cost of site, would cost at least $175,000 (from figures given me by an authority on theatre building), and the rental offered by Mr. Ricketts, $5,000 per annum, would not suffice to pay insurance and taxes, the rate for former being 5 per cent, which on $100,000 insurance would absorb the total rental, leaving nothing to meet taxes, and maintenance. It is clear that until a much higher rental can be obtained we had better be content with improving what we have already got, unless we intend to make a free gift of our subscriptions, and to my mind there are matters having a higher claim upon us than the building of a theatre.

KILLS FELLOW CONVICT.

San Quentin, Cal., Nov. 2.—Frederick B. Cook, a "lifter" in the San Quentin, who killed Henry Mayor, a fellow convict, yesterday afternoon with an iron bar will be given a preliminary examination before Justice of the Peace W. Magee at San Rafael Thursday. It is stated by prison officials that Cook probably will never hang for the murder, as he has a strong case indicating that Mayer was killed in self-defence. The two convicts were working in a secluded part of the new prison building when the murder took place, and it was not witnessed by others.

CONCERNING THE ESKIMO.

The Eskimo is affable, brave and loyal. He speaks a language which is highly inflected—many primitive peoples do—and has certain rudimentary ideas of a warm and habitable heaven and a cold and cheerless hell. And in knowledge of ways and means to fight cold, ice and darkness and wrest subsistence from a frozen desert he leads all other children of the north and south. But he lives his life in a realm of ideas incalculably remote from civilization. Peary tells us of a tribe of less than 100 people who, cut off from their fellows for several generations and out of the track of whalers and explorers, believed themselves to be the only inhabitants of the world—a world of 'berg and floe, of naked rock and mighty glacier, of wheeling stars and quivering aurora, of immeasurable reaches of ice and snow, all existing for the empery of a race of a few score human beings in a few igloos of stones and ice.

With the arrival of the city service truck the present heavy truck will hereafter be sent out only in response to alarms in the central section of the city, the new truck answering alarms from all other districts. The new hose wagon manufactured by T. Brayshaw, of this city, has also been completed.

—Few of the present members of the aldermanic board have thus far signified their intentions in respect to the approaching municipal contest, though it is anticipated that most of them will offer again for the service of the city. Ald. Humber announced last evening, however, that he will again be a candidate. Ald. Stewart, who on more than one occasion recently has said that he would not again run, is being pressed by his friends to alter his decision, and there is said to be a prospect that he will do so. Ex-Alderman Gleason is almost sure to be in the field as a candidate, either for alderman or for mayor, though Mr. Gleason says that as yet he has made no announcement to that end.

NEW HELLO NUMBER FOR THE BUILDINGS

Local Exchange Has Been Installed With 2220 as Call.

The telephone call for the Parliament Buildings hereafter will be "2220."

A local exchange has been installed at the buildings and is in full working order to-day. To get connected with any of the offices in the building now the number given above must be called for and the particular department required asked for when the exchange replies.

The exchange has been installed just inside the front entrance, in an alcove at the rear of the usher's office. A public telephone has also been installed at the same place, which will prove a great convenience to the public who have business at the buildings.

—Residents in remote sections of the city where there have not as yet been established electric lights on the streets will rejoice to know that their requirements in that respect are now to be met. The fifty arc lights ordered some time ago by the city have arrived and the work of installing them is to be taken in hand immediately. Many applications for lights are on hand, and in placing them care will be taken to dispose of them to benefit the greatest number.

Are you fully satisfied with your last season's Printing?

Have your catalogues brought thoroughly satisfactory returns? Not "pretty fair," but really live, profitable results?

Have your booklets been a source of pride and of profit to you? Or have you felt like apologizing whenever you mailed one out?

We don't ask what you paid. If your advertising matter has been very successful, it was worth a fair cost. And if it was not distinctly successful, it cost you too much, whatever you paid for it.

If your catalogues have compelled results; if your printer has been like a skilled partner in selling your goods; if his service has been fully staisfactory—

Stay with him.

But, if your advertising matter has been merely commonplace, and your stationery hit or miss; if you have had to put up with delays when you needed catalogues; and with make-shifts due to incompetence or poor facilities when you needed powerful displays—

Then you owe it to yourself to let Sweeney & McConnell demonstrate on your work the real selling value of their quality printing.

TAXATION AGREEMENT BEING CONSIDERED

Oak Bay Council Still Wrestling With Uplands Farm Proposal.

At the meeting of the Oak Bay Council held last night the streets committee reported that certain amendments had been made to the draft agreement in regard to the Uplands Park subdivision. The company who are handling the sub-division ask for an equalization of taxation for a term of ten years on condition that they spend a sum of $500,000 in improving the property by building roads, putting in sewers and drains, constructing sidewalks and boulevards and doing other work. The council has assented to the general proposition, but, before laying the scheme before the ratepayers of Oak Bay for their endorsation the council wish to have everything in perfect order and the bona fides of the owners fully established.

A great many meetings of the streets committee have ben held from time to time to consider the question, and now nothing is wanting but the final completion of the arrangement by the owners and the ratification by the ratepayers.

When the subdivision is opened up it will mean the placing on the market of one of the finest residential estates on the coast. The surveys were completed some time ago and everything is now in readiness for proceding with the work. Andrew Wright of this city has been acting on behalf of the Oldfield, Gardiner & Kirby Company in the negotiations with the Oak Bay Council.

—A big box containing numerous books and magazines is to be forwarded to W. H. Morrison, Y. M. C. A., secretary on the G. T. R. out of Prince Rupert, by the local association. This literature will be distributed along the line and placed at the disposal of the numerous workingmen employed on the road.

—To-night and for the balance of the week there will be moving pictures and amateur concert at the Victoria theatre. The pictures will be new here, and are of great interest, while many of them are humorous, but all are enjoyable. The amateur performers this week have many good turns to offer, and the show runs for two and a half hours.

—The committee having the arrangements in hand for the St. George's masquerade ball meets to-morrow evening, when all the members are particularly requested to be present. The prize ticket and music committees will present their reports, and from the interest shown this year's ball promises to eclipse those of past years. To-night the prize committee will choose the prizes to be offered, and these will be of greater value than those offered in the past. The tickets for the ball are now in the hands of the members, and can also be obtained from the Empire or Old Corner cigar store.

BETTING LAW KILLS RACING

BELMONT PARK IS ALMOST DESOLATE

Attendance at Famous Track Now Down to One-fifth.

In view of the local interest taken in horse racing here and the discussion as to the effect of stopping betting on a race track the following for New York relative to the Brighton Beach track will be of interest. The following is the situation reported from New York.

That horse racing without betting would cease to exist was the argument of the turfmen during the anti-gambling campaign in New York state, and with the passing of the race track they claimed incalculable damage would be done to the breeding interests of the country. They contended that betting was an essential to horse racing, and without the incentive of a sporting wager the game could not continue, but would gradually wither away, to nothing.

However, the law was passed, and it was so carefully hedged in by Governor Hughes and his associates that there was believed to be no loop-hole by which the guilty could escape. Even the race track people themselves believed that it was all up with their favorite sport, and prepared for the worst. One track, Brighton Beach, closed its gates last year after failing to meet a number of obligations to horsemen and others, but this month the defaulting racing association, evidently with the future in view, distributed a number of cheques that proved a welcome surprise to those who received them. This is taken as an intimation that gacing will be resumed again at Brighton Beach, and possibly dates asked from the jockey club for next year.

Times have certainly changed around New York, and a visit to Belmont park is commencing evidence that if Governor Hughes did not exactly stamp out the gambling evil pertaining to race tracks he made a big dent in it with his heel and the marks are there for anybody to see.

The difference in the racing crowds to the days gone by is most noticeable. Before it was one grand rush for a seat on the trap and lucky in the end to get a strap to cling to. Nowadays it is a most decorous procession after passing through the station gates and the choice of a seat riding frontwards or backwards or sideways. There is no surging mob, no clamoring touts, no rushing or bustling or jostling. There is plenty of room and no need to get there half an hour early to secure a seat.

The average attendance at Belmont Park has been about 4000 people, and in the wide expanse of stands, they seemed far less than that. The field stand and lawn contained not a single living soul. The admission fee "to the field" is one dollar, but nobody wants to go there apparently, and they don't go even to the bother of opening the place up.

Two years ago before the anti-betting law came into effect, the average daily attendance at the Belmont Park meeting was over 20,000 people, the rich purses attracted good horses, and the prospects of betting on their choices drew the crowds.

The legal limitations on betting have put "the game on the blink," as one racegoer graphically described it, and the oral system of betting does not appeal to the average follower of the horses. Neither does the $2 admission fee, and the other et ceteras that swell the expense account.

THE KENNEL.

LITTER OF AIRDALE PUPPIES.

Wm. McAllister, who makes a specialty of Airedale terriers, has just had an addition of half a dozen little beauties to his kennel, the bitch being by Betsey Royal and the sire Clonnel Flockmaster. The youngsters are a beautiful little lot, and, like their ancestors, promise to be all prize winners. He claims to have the best strain of Airdales on the coast, and is ever ready to back up his assertion by the production of documentary evidence.

BIG GAME HUNTERS SECURE FINE BAGS

Foreign Sportsmen Enthuse Over British Columbia Sport.

It may be just a periodic streak of luck, or perhaps it is because the game in the province is getting more plentiful as a result of the salutory game laws enacted by the provincial government; at any rate the big game hunters, who went into northern British Columbia this fall at the commencement of the game season, are returning with record bags. In fact, such shooting has rarely been recorded in the big game annals of any country.

Just three weeks in the Cassiar district, and returning home with a record of two moose, two caribou, two sheep, two goats, and two grizzles. This is the achievement of Mr. P. N. Graham, a well-known English big game hunter, who has shot in almost every quarter of the globe where game is to be found. And there are several other hunters who have returned from a three or four weeks' trip to the Cassiar districts whose records almost equal this splendid bag.

Baron von Brockhausen-Mittelfelde, a personal friend of the Kaiser, is carrying home some magnificent trophies. He shot two moose, two caribou, two sheep, one goat and a grizzley.

Mr. Richard Elkins brought down two moose, three caribou, and two sheep, also in the Cassiar district; and Mr. R. B. Slaughter has returned from the same hunting zone with a bag of two moose, three caribou, three sheep, and one goat.

These hunters of world-wide repute are warm in their praise of British Columbia's hunting grounds.

"Here are no fevers, which sap a man's vigor and render life a continual punishment," said the German baron in an interview. "The climate in the fall in British Columbia is magnificently suited for hunting, and everything contributes to make a hunting trip in the province an enjoyable outing. As for the game, it is superb. I could hunt here forever."

Baron von Brockhausen-Mittelfelde shot one of the finest sheep ever killed in the Cassiar district. Its horns have a spread of over 34 inches.

FOOTBALL FATALITY AT WEST POINT

Harvard Trainer Says He Advised Withdrawal of Bryne From Game.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Boston, Nov. 2.—According to Trainer William Donovan, of Harvard, the death of Cadet Byrne, of the West Point eleven, would have been averted in the Harvard-army game had Donovan's advice to withdraw the player from the game been followed. A few minutes before Byrne dived into the scrimmage which ended fatally for him, Donovan asserts that he urged Byrne's withdrawal from the game; as he believed him to be physically unfit to play. Donovan said:

"I talked with Head Linesman Evans about Byrne and told him that the man ought to be taken out. He agreed, but what could he do? Two plays after that Byrne received the injuries which made it necessary to stop the game.

"I doubt if any athletic trainer or football trainer at any college, university or High school would have allowed Byrne to remain in the game as long as he was allowed to.

"In the play just before the fatal one Byrne was noticeably in very bad shape. He stayed on the ground when the other players had reached their feet, and it was a minute or so before he staggered into the line-up."

JOHNSON IN COURT.

NEW RUNNER IN FOR MONDAY NIGHT'S RACE

C. G. Broughton, a Portland Amateur, to Turn Professional.

C. G. Broughton, a Portland runner, who has been an amateur, will turn professional Monday night next and run in place of Burn for ten miles against W. Stanley at the horse show building, while Stanley runs twenty miles against Rowan over a similar distance, and Baylis over five miles.

The race has now been fixed definitely and Stanley undertakes to beat the three men each at his respective distance.

Broughton, the new-comer, will be seen here for the first time. He has made the following times for the following distances: Ten miles, 55 minutes; fifteen miles, 1 hour 25 mins.; Marathon distance, 2 hours 55 minutes.

He is 22 years of age, weight 145 pounds and is six feet tall all but half an inch.

Broughton, Rowan and Stanley have signed articles for the race, and agree to run the various distances agreed on. Rowan who will go the twenty miles, is training at Nanaimo, and his acceptance is said to be in the mails and will reach Victoria to-day.

RUGBY MATCH ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON

James Bay and Victoria Teams to Meet for First Time.

The J. B. A. A. Rugby team will play a game Saturday on one of the local grounds against a representative fifteen of the Victoria Rugby Club. The match will be the first this season in which two local clubs have been engaged. The Bays have played two games against McGill College, Vancouver, and won both, but these wins can give no idea of how strong the team will appear against the Victoria fifteen as the McGill team is composed of juniors.

The Victoria Rugby Club fifteen will be organized this week and will play Saturday. There appears to be some trouble between the teams as to which shall get players that are members of both organizations.

As there are a number of last year's prominent players who have dropped out of the game this year and as several of the J. B. A. A. players have improved in the game, the match if the teams are evenly divided and the Victoria Club does not get its own and the best of the Bays' talent, should be an even struggle. The game may be played at the Royal Athletic park, and if so it will be the first Rugby match played on the Cook street ground, where the seating capacity and appointments are better than any ground in the city.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.

MATCHES NEXT SATURDAY.

The matches in the Victoria and District Association Football League for Saturday afternoon are in the first division, Victoria West against A.O.F., and the Garrison and J.B.A.A.

In the second division Baraca plays North Ward, Fifth Regiment and Y. M.C.A., Beacon Hill and Esquimalt, and the Y.M.C.A. against the Empress.

EARLY GRECIAN COINAGE.

Mark on Gold Ingots to Guarantee Weight and Purity.

The invention of coinage is due to the Greeks, most probably to the bankers of Halicarnassos and adjacent Asia Minor Greek colonies, who toward the end of the eighth century B. C. began stamping the small gold and electron ingots which passed through their hands as currency with a mark of some sort intended to guarantee the weight and purity of the metal; such ingots very soon assumed a round and more regular shape, which we find already in old silver coins from Aegina, nearly contemporary with Asia Minor "beans."

Curious to say, none of the surrounding people with whom the Asiatic and European Greeks were in constant communication, political or commercial, took up the wonderful invention which at present seems to us of such obvious necessity that we scarcely realize how the civilized world of old could have got on without it. As a matter of fact, however, neither the Phoenicians, with their practical commercial sense, nor the Lydians or the Persians who claimed the supremacy over the cities where the new currency was initiated, nor of course the Egyptians ever had coinage, till the conquests of Alexander disseminated the Greek civilization all through the eastern world. The Romans came to know it through the Greek cities in Sicily and Magna Graecia, and began striking silver coins toward the beginning of the third century B. C.

In the meantime with the Greeks die sinking, like everything else, had fallen within the domain of art, and their coins remain forever a standard of beauty for the artist and a model of perfection for the die sinker.—Saturday Review.

LATE LUNCHEON RESULTS IN SUICIDE

Woman Sends Bullet Through Head When Husband Leaves Home.

San Francisco, Cal. Nov. 2.—When her husband, angered because his luncheon was not ready for him, left the house saying he "would find another place to eat," Mrs. Mary Silva, of 262 Mississippi street, committed suicide. The irate husband had gone but a short distance from his door when a pistol shot rang out from the house. He ran back to find his wife lying on the floor with a bullet wound in her head. LIFEBOAT RESCUES.

Twenty-two lives were saved by lifeboats recently off the coast of England during a gale which raged in that region. Five lives were also saved by a lifeboat off the Irish coast.

The Buckie boat rescued an old man in an exhausted condition, whose fishing boat was being driven before a gale on to the Cromarty coast. The Stromness boat, which has a motor installed in her, saved nine men from the trawler Ocean Prince, of Aberdeen, stranded on the Point of Ness. The Stornaway boat rescued twelve men from the Norwegian steamer Rap, which had been beached in Branahuie bay after striking the rocks in the neighborhood.

The rescues off Ireland were made by the Greencastle lifeboat, which took off the crew of five hands of the schooner Laura Griffith, a vessel that was in a dangerous position near Tunsbank.

NO TARIFF WAR WITH CANADA

COMMISSION FINDS WAY TO AVOID TROUBLE

Administration Afraid to Injure United States Export Trade.

Detroit, Nov. 2.—A special from Washington says:

The administration is not going to have a tariff war with Canada. The fact has not yet been officially announced, and it will not be until after the president's return to Washington, but it is the fact nevertheless. It has required but a brief scrutiny of the possibilities of such a war to scare the administration. Canada as the very best single customer—popularly considered—which exporters of the United States have, would be in a position to make so much trouble in such event that it would have a disastrous effect on any party in the United States fostering war. This has become plain, and therefore, the tariff commission has been instructed to find a way to obviate trouble. It is understood that it has done so, and that it will report to the president in due time that Canada does not discriminate against the United States in a manner that calls for the imposition of the maximum rates on imports from the Dominion.

Of course it is a fact that Canada does discriminate against the United States to a certain extent, and that the new tariff law was drawn in a way to enable the United States to hand out punishment for it. In fact it looks as if the law amounted to a mandatory order to do so, but it appears that the adminstration is to take advantage of the fact that the president is really sole judge of what is discrimination, and where it will cause trouble to judge in a certain way he can obviate it by simply judging in another way.

In doing so he can take the glory, if there is any, while the tariff commission can take the blame if there is any. It is declared that it "will work fine," which is doubtless true. At any rate it will save the administration from having to meet the charge of having crippled the trade of the country with Canada, a charge which might lose the Republicans the house at the next election if the crippling proved to be severe.

VETERAN KICKED TO DEATH BY NEGRO

Killed for Interrupting Game of Craps in Streets of Terre Haute.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 2.—A posse is searching for Sam Swoope, a negro, who knocked down and kicked to death Arthur Smith, a white civil war veteran. If the negro is apprehended he undoubtedly will be roughly handled as Swoope's crime has aroused the greatest indignation.

Smith accidentally kicked the dice in a street game of craps in which Swoope was participating.

Despite the apologies of the white man the negro knocked him down, kicked him to death and escaped into the woods.

MORE LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS

COUNCIL AUTHORIZES EXPENDITURE OF $150,000

Huge Job to Be Undertaken for the Improvement of Quadra Street.

At last evening's meeting of the city council expenditures on local improvements aggregating a sum in the neighborhood of $160,000 were authorized. Authority was given the city engineer to proceed with the following work:

Permanent sidewalk on both sides of St. James street, between Oswego street and Rendall street, and grading, draining and rock surfacing. Total cost $3,187, city's share $637.

Permanent sidewalk on west side of Douglas street from Cormorant street to Fisguard street. Total cost $1,008, city's share $336.

Permanent sidewalks on both sides of Rendall street from Niagara street, Simcoe street, and grading, draining and rock surfacing. Total cost $3,878, city's share $775.

Permanent sidewalks on both sides of Coburg street from Oswego street to Rendall street and grading, draining and rock surfacing. Total cost $3,187, city's share $637.

Permanent sidewalks on both sides of Gladstone street, between Shakespeare street and Belmont avenue, with curbs, gutters and boulevards. Total cost $4,406, city's share $881.

Boulevards with curbs and gutters on north side of Yates street from Quadra street to Harrison street, and on south side of Yates street between Quadra street and Fort street. Total cost $10,843, city's share $2,168.

By-laws authorizing the raising of funds to proceed with the following works of local improvements were passed:

To grade, tar macadamize and drain Craigflower road from Arm street to Russell street, and Russell street from Skinner street to Langford street with permanent sidewalk on the west side of Douglas street from Gormally road to Francis avenue at a cost of $15,270; grade and tar macadamize Quadra street between Blanchard street and Hillside avenue and permanent sidewalks on the east side of Quadra street from Pandora avenue to Hillside avenue and on the west side of Quadra street from Caledonia avenue to Hillside avenue, to cost $50,727; to widen Oak Bay avenue on the north side from the westerly line of lot 3, block I, Fernwood, to Jubilee avenue and expropriate land for that purpose and construct permanent walks on the south side from Verrinder avenue to Foul Bay road, and on the north side from lot 3, block 1, to Foul Bay road, and to tar macadamize, grade and drain Oak Bay avenue from Fort street to Foul Bay road, total cost $42,268.23.

A quantity of street improvement work was recommended in a report from the streets, sewers and bridges committee as follows:

That surface drains be constructed, provided there are sufficient funds on hand to carry out the work, on the following streets, viz.:

Richardson street, between Cook and Linden avenue. Estimated cost $250.

Government street from Bay street to Queen's avenue.

Queen's avenue, north side, east of Quadra street. Estimated cost $275.

Moss street from the new school southerly.

That a sewer be constructed on Simcoe street between St. Andrew's and Government streets. Estimated cost $400.

That the sum of $100 be appropriated and expended in making Shakespeare street between North Pembroke street and Edmonton road, passable for vehicular traffic.

ALLEGED SWINDLERS HELD FOR TRIAL

Are Supposed to Be Members of the Notorious Maybray Gang.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 2.—Three alleged members of the Maybray gang of "fixed" fight swindlers, who were arrested in San Jose recently, were examined by United States commissioner Heacock yesterday and held for trial under $15,000 bonds. In default of bail they were remanded to the Alameda county jail. The men will be taken to Omaha, Neb., to stand trial as the indictments were returned against them in that city. The charge against the men is that they made fraudulent use of the United States mails.

REVIEW DENIED.

U. S. Chief Justice Orders Papers Stricken From Court Record.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—Chief Justice Fuller yesterday created a mild sensation in the Supreme court of the United States by announcing that papers in the case of the Yellow Poplar Lumber Company vs. S. F. Chapman would be stricken from the records of the court because of their scandalous nature.

The controversy involves a contract by Chapman to deliver to the company 50,000,000 feet of lumber in Virginia. The Court of Appeals decided in favor of Champman, and in its petition the company asks a review on various grounds, one of which was stated as follows: "The opinion of the Court of Appeals is so grotesque in its conclusions of law and prepared with so little care and study as to be almost unintelligible, even grammatically, not to say legally."

The chief justice said the papers were "so impertinent and improper that they would be stricken from the docket in order to protect the records of the court from scandal."

The petition for a writ of review was denied.

What Other People Think

ACCIDENTS FROM MOTOR CARS.

To the Editor:—Yesterday (Sunday) a young lady was knocked down at the far end of Gorge bridge by a team of horses shying from a fast driven motor car; she fortunately escaped without serious injury. But (as is customary with such "gents") the motorists promptly vanished.

I was walking in the opposite direction, within 50 yards of the scene of the occurrence, and could easily have read the number if it was in front as well as at the rear of the fast approaching machine. Evidence of that kind might often assist the police when confusion and dust make it impossible to see the number at the rear of the escaping motor. I suggested this idea (of numbering) to the city council, who coldly received it; but eventually submitted it to the commissioners of police for consideration. As nothing has come of it, I hope I have not wounded anybody's dignity, which one of your contemporaries has decided "should not exceed the amount of your bank account."

However, in view of yesterday's occurrence, I venture to make a further suggestion: that motorists should not have the special privilege of crossing such bridges, crowded or otherwise, faster than at a walking pace, like all other vehicles. I don't know why it is that ladies so often conceal accidents of this kind, but such is the fact. A short time since an elderly lady was knocked down within the city limits and severely hurt. She kept it secret and was confined to bed for some days. I hope the present political excitement will not hinder the publication of these facts in the Times.

LOCAL OPTION.

To the Editor:—It is difficult to understand why the people interested in the liquor business in this province should put up such a strenuous fight against the enactment of a local option law, or why they should have asked for a plebiscite upon the question. They certainly have nothing to lose by the passage of such a law and nothing to gain from the result of the plebiscite, no matter what the result of such a vote may be.

Let us suppose that in the forthcoming plebiscite a majority of votes in the entire province are against the enactment of a local option law, a result not at all probable, but still quite possible. What will be the result? The temperance people will take a map of British Columbia, put their fingers on those municipalities where local option has received a majority of the votes cast, and bring on contests in those places for the adoption of the Canada Temperance Act, generally known as the Scott Act. This they have a right to do now in every municipality in the province without further legislation of any kind. The plebiscite will tell them just where they can do this and be sure of winning.

When the Scott Act was first passed, during the time of the MacKenzie government, it was somewhat lacking in the machinery necessary for enforcing it, but some important amendments were made to it by the Dominion parliament a session or two ago, which so perfected the act as to leave little to choose, from a temperance point of view, between it and a provincial local option law. Indeed, it seems preferable to the Ontario act, as the latter requires a three-fifths majority to carry it, while the Scott Act calls for a majority vote only. Its adoption in any municipality terminates all licenses at the end of the year for which they were issued, without the slightest compensation whatever to the holders of such licenses.

Such a contest is already open to the temperance people of every municipality in this province. They will have little or nothing more than that under a provincial local option law. What then have those in the trade to gain by opposing the passage of such a law? If they had been well advised they would have saved their ammunition till a contest is brought on in any municipality under a local option law. Then will come the tug-of-war. This referendum vote, if it helps either side, will help the temperance people, for it will show them just what municipalities they can carry.

In the Maritime Provinces there has never been any demand for a local option law, as there the people are perfectly satisfied with the Scott Act, where it is in force in most of the municipalities. What the temperance people there are asking for is for provincial prohibition, which has already been secured in Prince Edward Island, and is being sought in both Nova Scotia and New Brunswick at the present time. Ontario seems to prefer local option to the Canada Temperance Act, even under the three-fifths conditions. Just why the writer never could quite understand.

NOVA SCOTIAN.

THE POLICE AND THE THIRD DEGREE.

To the Editor: There is a tendency in some parts of the Dominion of Canada to introduce American police methods in the treatment of unconvicted prisoners. It is a barbarous practice and generally termed "putting the prisoner through the third degree." In Toronto Chief Justice Mulock has strongly condemned the police for their unconstitutional and illegal practice, and Mr. Justice Irving recently found it necessary to condemn the police of Victoria for their conduct. Fortunately in Vancouver the police force is one of the best in the Dominion, and any prisoner coming into the hands of Chief Chamberlain, or Detective Inspector Mulhern, may feel assured that they will not be tampered with or illused by any officer in the force.

But in a new country rapidly developing, loose and illegal methods may creep into practice with public indifference; therefore, it cannot be too widely known that in the British Empire every prisoner is presumed to be innocent until he is proven guilty.

The legislature has been careful in guarding the interests of accused persons. It has enacted that the court must have all the evidence read over to the accused unless he, the prisoner, specifically wishes to dispense with the privilege.

The magistrate is required by law to point out to the accused that he is not bound to say anything, that he has nothing to fear from any threat which may have been held out to him, to induce him to talk and also to warn him that whatever he, the prisoner, does say will be taken down in writing and may be given in evidence against him on his trial.

Whatever the prisoner does say has to be signed by the magistrate. Such statement cannot be used as evidence unless it is signed by the magistrate. Further, if the prisoner's prescribed form has not been followed, then the caution, the prisoner's statement, and the magistrate's signature must be proven in evidence as at common law.

R. V. Boyd, 19 L. J. M. C., 141; R. V. Hearn, C. and M. 109 (113.)

It is laid down in R. V. Hassett and Cox, C. C. 511, that "It is not the duty of constables to interrogate prisoners in their custody even though they have first cautioned them not to criminate themselves."

It will thus be clearly understood that for any police officer to ask any prisoner questions about his own case is against the public weal and is not legal. It may be said that some guilty rascal may escape. This may be true, but it is better that ninety and nine guilty persons should go unpunished rather than one innocent person should be wrongly convicted. History furnishes many instances of innocent persons being the victims of police intrigue, and I remember being in court when several convicts were brought up before Lord Chief Justice Colridge as witnesses. In a very short time they were able to satisfy the court that they were innocent of the crime for which they had been sent to penal servitude and shortly afterwards were liberated.

New, if the police are permitted to introduce methods more applicable to the period of the Spanish Inquisition, then the safeguards raised to protect the innocent, by the bloodshed and suffering of thousands of persons in the by-gone days, will be of no avail, and justice in some cases would be defeated.

It must not be overlooked that the police as a body are an upright and intelligent section of the public. They like a fair, square deal as well as any other men, but once let the insidious methods creep in and it will be difficult to act justly. I am led to think such methods have crept into practice in the United States, introduced by the "Pinkerton" and other private detective corporations, whose aim has been to obtain a conviction and reward, whereas the police officer has his duty to do and gets his pay, whether the prisoner is convicted or not.

DETECTIVE IN JAIL ON CHARGE OF ROBBERY

Alleged to Have Robbed Store Which He Was Paid to Guard.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 2.—James Boynton, a Pinkerton detective, is in jail here charged with robbing the California Neckwear Company for which he was paid to guard from thieves.

The man was captured by two sleuths of the Curtin detective agency, who had been employed by the proprietors of the store to watch the Pinkertons. When captured last night he had removed his hat and coat and had climbed through a window 14 feet above the floor. He carried a dark lantern, but no weapons.

Several days ago the proprietors discovered that the lock on the front door had been tampered with. They suspected Boynton and commissioned two Curtin men to watch him.

Boynton decares that he is innocent of any wrong intent.

SPIES ON TRACK OF MEXICAN SOCIALIST

L. de Lara Believes He is Being Followed by Government Agent.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 2.—L. Guitteres de Lara, who is at liberty on $3,000 bail pending his hearing on a charge of being an alien anarchist, declared that since his release from the county jail, his footsteps have been dogged by spies, whom he thinks are agents of the Mexican government.

"Since I left the jail," de Lara said, "every time I go upon the street, I am conscious of someone following me. I have been spied upon before, and the sensation of being watched is not new to me. I know that everywhere I go I am not alone.

"Almost every hour of the day I am called to the telephone by persons who refuse to tell their names. They call me on one pretext or another, and I am certain that it is merely a trick to keep posted as to my whereabouts. Twice women have called me on the telephone. Each time they stated that they were in sympathy with the Mexican revolutionary party, and offered to meet me at certain places to discuss the situation. I am not of the so-called revolutionary party, and I believe their interest is only a trap to identify me with it."

Immigration Inspector Ridgway said yesterday that the date for de Lara's hearing has not yet been determined. The accused man's attorneys are ready with their defence and are awaiting the summons.

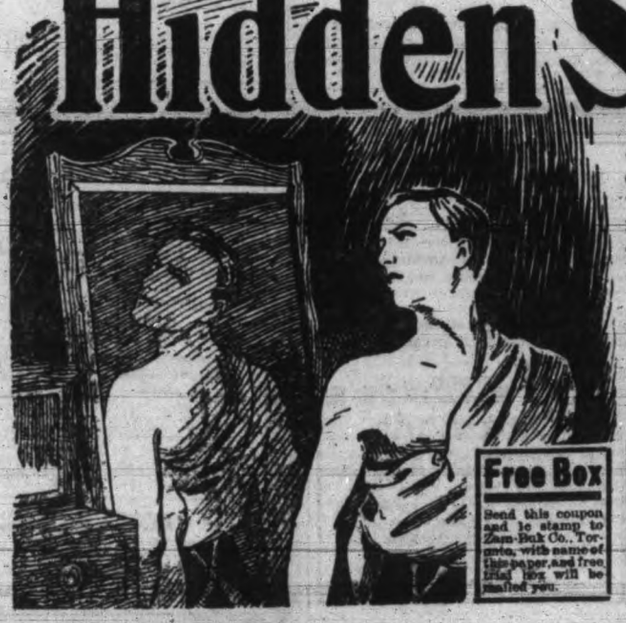
Hidden Skin Troubles



Have you on some part of your body a sore, or eruption, or ulcer, or eczemous patch which, hidden from the gaze of others, yet causes you hours and hours of pain and inconvenience? Have you tried this, and that, and the other remedy in vain, and are you feeling disheartened and discouraged? If so read the following instances of Zam-Buk's healing power, and apply it to your case:

"I had an ulcerated leg for several years. The ulcers spread all round the limb, which was swollen to nearly twice its normal size. Several doctors treated me. One suggested amputation. None did me any good. Zam-Buk healed the sores!" So says Mrs. Gilmour, of Princess St., Kingston. Or, read this:—

"My mother tried many things for abscesses and eruptions, but in vain. In Zam-Buk she found a complete cure." So says Miss A. Coggill, of Wapella (Sask.).

Sufferers from these "Hidden Skin Troubles" of any nature should profit by such experiences as this. Zam-Buk is seen at its best when applied to cases which have defied ordinary treatment. Write for trial box, and test it at our expense

ZAM-BUK

THE GREAT SKIN-CURE.

ZAM-BUK AND A MIRACLE OF HEALING

Over and over again Zam-Buk has performed a miracle of healing when applied to sores and skin injuries which have refused to heal under any other form of treatment. Why not let it heal your trouble? Immediately Zam-Buk is applied to a sore or wound or diseased portion of flesh it commences its work in two directions. It anoints the exterior, and its antiseptic properties prevent any germs and bacilli from creating trouble. Then the herbal essences and juices so finely purified and concentrated, penetrate the subjacent layers and stimulate the weakened or diseased cells to active, healthy operation. These cells then put forth their "Building" products and replace the diseased outer layer with fresh and healthy tissue. By degrees the whole diseased surface is thus replaced by new healthy skin.

In this way Zam-Buk cures cuts, burns, bruises, ulcers, abscesses, itch, eczema, eruptions, pustules, scurvy, salt rheum, blood poison, and other forms of skin trouble. Zam-Buk also cures piles, varicose ulcers, etc. All druggists and stores sell at 50c per box, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. 6 boxes $2.50.

NOVEL PLAN TO LIGHT TOWN IN WASHINGTON

Proposal to Install Two Big Searchlights on the Side-hills.

Wenatchee, Wash., Nov. 2.—The little city of Leavenworth is to be lighted in a novel manner if the views of a majority of the councilmen are carried into effect. At the last meeting of the town council a proposition by the Tumwater Light and Power company was submitted to furnish light for the streets. Much discussion was had over the proposed price to be charged and finally Councilman Woldenberg proposed that the town own its own lighting plant and station two searchlights on the side hills at either end of the town, the lights to be of 5,000 candle power each. These searchlights, he contended, would give the city better light than could be obtained in any other manner. Smaller searchlights could, he said be placed at other points if there remained any dark places.

Woldenberg's idea met with considerable favor, but Mayor Nelson handed in his resignation as a protest against the expenditure of the money necessary for carrying out the scheme.

MUST STAND TRIAL.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—The Federal Supreme Court denied a rehearing in the contempt cases against Sheriff Shipp and Deputy Sheriffs Gibson, Williams, Nolan, Hudget and Mayse. It was ordered that these men be brought to Washington, November 15th for sentence. The men were convicted of conspiring to lynch Edward Johnson, a negro, at Chattanooga, Tenn., on March 19th, 1906.

NO STATION AT BEACON HILL

NO ROOM TO BUILD SMALL WAITING ROOM

Patrons of B. C. Electric Co. Have Grievance—No Site Available.

Residents in the vicinity of Beacon Hill Park will be disappointed to learn that there seems little likelihood that a waiting room will be provided for their accommodation at the end of the car line at Niagara street. The desirability of puting up accommodation for patrons of the cars at the point mentioned, the same as in other sections of the city, has long been urged upon the B. C. Electric Company, and the latter have frequently expressed a willingness to do so, just as soon as the City Council would designate a site. The civic body has from time to time had the question of a site for a waiting room before it, but no final decision was reached in the matter until last evening, when the following report from the streets, sewers and bridges committee was unanimously adopted:

"Recommended that the B. C. Electric Railway Company be informed, in reply to its request for permission to erect a waiting room on Beacon Hill Park at the eastern terminus of Niagara street, that the council have not the power to consent to the erection of the waiting room in the park, and that owing to the narrowness of Niagara street at that point, do not deem it advisable to grant permission to have it erected on the street."

A. T. Goward, local manager of the B. C. Electric Railway Company, while he regrets the decision which the council has reached, cannot hold out any hope that the waiting room will be erected, as the company can get no site.

Other recommendations made by the streets committee which were adopted are as follows:

Recommended that the application of the North Saanich municipality, for the council's permission to engage the services of Mr. Bryson, assistant city engineer, for the purpose of looking over and examining a source of water supply for that municipality, be granted.

Re communication from the local manager of the B. C. Electric Railway Company, enclosing account for the sum of $942.20 for taking out 1,347 yards of rock when grading May street for the purpose of laying track line there.

Recommended that the local manager be informed that no such arrangement as indicated in his letter was made between Aldermag Henderson, as their chairman of the streets, bridges and sewers committee, and the city engineer on behalf of the corporation, and the local manager, on behalf of his company, viz.: "that the city would pay the current rate for all rock taken out and hauled to a convenient spot" as designated, and that the city cannot, therefore, recognize nor admit any liability in respect of the payment of said account.

Re communication of A. R. Sherk, calling attention to the condition of the cement sidewalk on Fernwood road.

Recommended that the writer be informed that this walk has been constructed in the same manner as all other walks in the city, but should any defects develop which would impair its stability he will not be called upon for any repairs which may have to be made.

Recommended that the city solicitors be instructed to secure from the owners of property on the west side of Camosun street, between Pandora avenue and Fisguard street, a conveyance in each case, of the option they have agreed to give to the city for the purpose of widening said street.

Re communication of Mrs. M. Baird, re condition of Adalaide street.

Recommended that Mrs. Baird be informed that the council would be willing to undertake the improvement of this street as one of local improvement, and should she desire the work carried out along these lines, a petition signed by a majority of owners of property of said street will have to be signed and presented to the council asking that the work be done.

Recommended that the council introduce and pass a by-law under the local improvement plan for the proposed work of carrying out the work of improving Spring Ridge, as outlined by the report and map prepared by Mr. Lawrence of the city engineer's department.

Recommended that the communication from the secretary of the Inner Harbor Association, complaining of sawdust and slabs being allowed to accumulate from mills on the harbor front, be referred to the harbor master for his information, as your committee consider that the subject is one which comes under his jurisdiction. We would also recommend that the portion of the secretary's letter complaining of the discharge from the Empress hotel laundry entering the harbor, be referred to the sanitary inspector.

The request of the municipality of South Saanich that a portion of the land owned by the city on the East Saanich road be granted as a public playground will be acceded to.

The city solicitor wrote saying that the bill of particulars of the claims of James Donegon for $1,000 damages for the loss of three cows, due to alleged wrongful detention of the animals by a civic officer, has been served on the city and that the evidence to substantiate the city's claim would be forwarded to the city barrister.

It was decided to make a grant to the Aged Women's Home of an amount equal to the amount of taxes which has been levied against that institution, the taxes being arrears for last year, as well as this year's taxes.

An order was passed admitting Richard Jaffrey to the Old Men's Home.

The electric light committee recommended that changes to the boiler plant at the electric light station, as suggested by the provincial boiler inspector, be carried out and tenders called for the work, and that tenders also be called for the supply of twelve tubular poles for the causeway lighting system, and that the various electric companies be notified that if they wish to use the subway across the causeway for the stringing of wires therein permission must be first obtained from the city.

The report was adopted.

ELIZABETH HISCOCKS,
Hon. Treas.

Mrs. Hasell explained that the society had considered it a point of honor to carry out their obligation to contribute to the fund for the women's building, and said that she could not speak too highly of the zeal and energy shown by the members who worked so hard through the fair week to attend to the needs of the public. A letter from Mrs. Richards thanking the society for its help was read.

The report was adopted.

Secretary's Report.

In the absence of the secretary, Miss Leeming, Mrs. Wilson read the following report:

"Madame President and Members,—I feel that I must first express the regret of the society of the Daughters of Pity at the loss of our president, Miss Fell, whose marriage has removed her from the city, and consequently from our circle. Mrs. Jacobson will be greatly missed by us all, as her services, always so willingly and cheerfully given, gave encouragement to all the members. Our best and heartiest wishes will follow her in her new life, and we hope that at some future time she may again be able to work amongst us.

"The usual Christmas work was undertaken at the hospital by the Daughters of Pity, the wards and corridors being decorated, and Christmas trees provided. For this purpose the sum of $30 was voted to be spent in presents to the patients in the ward. The hospital Cinderella was held at Government House, under the patronage of Mrs. James Dunsmuir, on December 28th. The sum of $750 was realized. The Lieut.-Governor very generously defrayed all expenses, thus allowing the entire proceeds to be given to the funds of the Daughters of Pity. The society was very sorry to have to accept the resignation of Miss Nicholles, the secretary, owing to her leaving the city. Miss Lovell was appointed in her stead. The Lenten sewing was carried on as usual, screens and cushions being made for the children's ward. Two new couches were provided; also three dozen night-dresses, blinds for the sun room, plants and shelves for the plants for the children's ward. A wheel chair and three washable rugs were provided for the Daughters of Pity room in the Strathcona ward. The usual contribution was given to the Anti-Tuberculosis Society. The fete held at the Japanese gardens on July 3rd was very successful, considering the cold weather. The sum of $57 being realized. Owing to the rain in the evening, the concert which was to have been held, through the kindness of J. G. Brown and Mrs. Lewis Hall, was unfortunately unable to take place.

"The Daughters of Pity having agreed to help towards the Women's Building fund at the exhibition grounds, undertook a lunch and afternoon tea room which was most successful, $340 being handed over to the fund. Also in the same cause, a Cinderella dance was held in the women's building on October 4th, which realized the sum of $85.

"Bulbs have been ordered to be supplied as usual for the corridors in the hospital.

"Fourteen new members have joined the society in the past year. The retiring officers are: President, Miss Fell; vice-president, Mrs. Charles E. Wilson; secretary, Miss Lovell; treasurer, Miss Hiscocks; executive, Misses Thain, Newby and Fawcett."

The report was adopted.

Bishop Perrin being asked to speak, addressed them on "Hospital and Pity." He showed that hospital and hotel were of the same derivation, and the great idea in hospital was that of the care of the guests.

In these days a class of women were found in the hospitals who were devoted heart and soul to the care of their guests. It was the work of the Daughters of Pity to fulfil the highest ideal of hospitality, and to give of their best to surround their guests with beauty and comfort. They fulfilled the spirit of the Lord's command, who bade his followers when they made a feast to call the poor and the afflicted.

Pity and piety he showed had similarly the same meaning originally. He was glad to see the interest shown by the young in hospital work, and gave some valuable advice to them.

Dr. Hasell also addressed the gathering, laying stress on the work done by the society for the children's ward.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Miss Leeming; vice-president, Mrs. C. E. Wilson; secretary, Miss Lovell; treasurer, Miss Hiscocks; members of executive, Miss Bone, Miss Fawcett and Miss Couves.

AEROPLANE SUIT.

New York, Nov. 2.—The aeronautic society yesterday filed in the United States Circuit court its answer to the suit brought by Orville and Wilbur Wright for an alleged infringement of the aeroplane patents held by them. The answer makes a general denial of all the claims of the Wrights, and alleges the issuance of British, German and French patents before the Wrights obtained their patent in this country.

PROSPECTUS.

This company is being organized and incorporated for the purpose of taking care of the huge quantities of herring caught in British Columbia waters. The amount of canned herring consumed in every large city is hardly realized by the public at large, all of which is imported from England and Eastern Canada, although the fish caught along the Pacific Coast are the finest the ocean can yield.

GOODS PACKED.

The staple pack of the company will be herring, which, with the type of machinery now owned by the company, can be put up in the form of bloaters, fresh herrings, kippered herrings and herrings in tomato sauce. In addition to these, large quantities of clams, salmon, bloater and anchovy paste will also be taken care of, the factory being fully equipped with the most up-to-date machinery for handling the same to advantage.

SUPPLY AND DEMAND.

The fish supply is unlimited and prolific. According to statistics compiled by the Inspector of Fisheries of British Columbia, the total amount exported last season of rough and salt cured herring in Nanaimo harbor alone exceeded 40,000,000 pounds. Again, Departure Bay, which is only two miles distant from the company's factory, is another point where the herring congregate, so that an ample supply of raw material is assured. Owing to the virgin field open for the company's operations coupled with prices now charged on imported goods, the profits of the company cannot fail to be large, and a trade that is based on the requirements of the masses of the people, not only in this country, but throughout the world, is one in which capital may be safely invested, and in the present instance especially so, as being the first in the field in this great producing region will have great advantages, and will soon assume an unassailable position, unsurpassed by any other cannery in the Dominion of Canada.

FIELD UNLIMITED.

The field for the company's operations is practically unlimited, and being the only herring cannery and packing comapny of its kind on the Pacific Coast, assures a practical monopoly of the field covered by its operations.

PROFITS AND DIVIDENDS.

The profits of this business are well known to be very substantial and the magnitude of the operations may be gauged from the business transacted by Messrs. Machonochie Bros. of England, William Bruce of Aberdeen, and the canneries along the Atlantic coast; the profits of most of them amounting to many times their entire paid-up capital annually.

During the herring run, which begins about the first week in November, fish are obtainable for canning and packing purpose at prices ranging from $3.50 to $8.00 per ton, according to size and quality, or less than half a cent per pound; and calculating the cost of canning same and other working expenses at the very highest rate, the dividends that will be paid to shareholders in this company cannot fail to be large.

The profits of this company cannot fail to be large. Nanaimo will command the main arteries throughout the whole of British Columbia and Central Canada, and commands regular supplies of raw material at first hand and distributing facilities, both by boat and rail, with a minimum of transportation.

The fact must not be lost sight of that all shareholders in The Nanaimo Herring Canning and Packing Company, Limited, are original shareholders, and as such will share equally in all stock bonuses rendered necessary to keep the dividends at a reasonable basis.

It would, of course, be absolutely impossible for this company, or any other concern, to state positively what the dividends will amount to, but the first 10 per cent. of the profits is guaranteed to all of our preference shareholders in advance of any dividend paid on any other stock.

EFFICIENCY.

The machinery purchased by the company comprises a most complete and thoroughly up-to-date line of can making machinery, manufactured by Rhodes & Sons of Wakefield, England, and capable of producing the modern drawn sanitary seamless can recently adopted by the well-known firms of Machonochie Bros., Ltd., and C. & E. Morton, England, and it is the intention of The Nanaimo Herring Canning & Packing Company, Limited, to place on the markets of Canada, the United States and the Orient a product equal, if not superior, to those at present in the market. By the use of this type of machinery for manufacturing our cans, solder and acid are entirely eliminated for canning operations, from the fact that the cans are drawn bodily in one piece, thus entirely removing the objections, theoretical or otherwise, long entertained by consumers of these goods against the use of canned goods.

We wish to point out to prospective subscribers of this company's stock that the advantage of our position lies in the fact that there is absolutely no competition on the Pacific Coast. All goods at present consumed in the Western Canadian markets are imported from England; therefore, it is patent to the minds of all, the advantages this company has in the question of freight rates and other duties imposed on imported goods.

LOCATION OF FACTORY.

The reasons for deciding upon establishing the factory in Nanaimo harbor are many, and decision was made only after a careful study of the situation and conditions in general, by men who are well versed in the canning and packing industry. Nanaimo is destined to be one of the largest business cities on Vancouver Island; a centre of the Island's railway system, and has steamer connections with all parts of the mainland—Vancouver being only 38 miles distant. It is the scene of the largest and most profitable herring fisheries on the Pacific Coast, hundreds of people being employed every season during the herring run; at present the herring only being dry salt cured.

Another feature in favor of this company's location is its ability to cater to the Canadian, American and Oriental markets, which are supplied at the present time solely by English and Halifax, N. S., firms. Therefore at the very commencement we have the advantage over competitors of not having heavy freight rates to contend with. The establishing of this class of industry has been one of the pressing needs of British Columbia; in fact it is of vital importance for the prosperity of British Columbia generally.

GENERAL.

By a combination of circumstances now existing in British Columbia, our proposition shows money-making possibilities that are astounding.

First—Because it is by far the most profitable indigenous industry to British Columbia.

Second—Because it is the first and only herring cannery along the Pacific Coast.

Third—Because the business is a permanent one, and the product is consumed by every man, woman and child in the country, and will in addition, be exported largely to the Orient and elsewhere.

Fourth—Because the herring can be purchased by the company in unlimited quantities at prices ranging from $3.50 to $8.00 per ton.

Fifth—Because every share in this company will become exceedingly valuable, for not only will they receive cash dividends half-yearly, but all surplus profits devoted to increasing plant and equipment will be capitalized by issue of bonus shares representing it, carrying the same dividends, and share certificates will be issued from time to time and divided pro rata among the shareholders of this issue.

Sixth—Because being a brand new industry in British Columbia, this is an opportunity that may never occur to you again.

Shares are $5.00 each now. In a little while it may take many times this amount to buy a single share.

Capital—The first 5,000 shares being 10 per cent. preference, and preferred to the extent of 10 per cent. in first dividends.

NOT FOR MONEY SAYS MR. QUIRK

Would He Be Without Dodd's Kidney Pills.

They Cured His Lumbago of 20 Years' Standing, and Made Him Feel Twenty Years Younger.

Fortune Harbor, Nfld., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Sixty years of age but hale and hearty and with all the vigor of a young man, Mr. Richard Quirk, well known and highly respected here, gives all the credit for his good health to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I suffered for over twenty years from Lumbago and Kidney Disease," Mr. Quirk says, "and after consulting doctors and taking their medicines, made up my mind I was incurable. I was unable to work when I was persuaded to buy a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills. To my great and happy surprise I had not taken half a box when I experienced great relief. Seven boxes cured me. I would not be without Dodd's Kidney Pills for any money. I am twenty years younger than before I took them."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the Kidneys. Healthy Kidneys strain all the impurities out of the blood. That's why they cure Rheumatism, Sciatica and other diseases caused by the presence of uric acid in the blood.

Miss Dorothy Whitney, daughter of the late William C. Whitney, capitalist, recently headed an investigation of the teeth of New York school children. It has been found that their teeth are in very bad condition and plans were at once made to alleviate the conditions.

STENCILLING IS EASILY CARRIED OUT

Preparation of the Colors and Method of Doing Work.

Stencilling is so much used now as an offset to embroidery or as a substitute for it that many women may be glad to know of this art.

There is an idea that it is difficult; it is in fact easy if one has a good pattern and remembbers to use the dye or paint sparingly. The chief trouble to the novice lies in the point running and blurring the material.

This can be avoided by taking very little paint on the brush, then rubbing almost dry against the side of cup or palette. Some workers mix the paint on a cloth or velvet paid and wet the brush in this rather than in the color itself.

As the paint must be used very thin, the novice will need to be extremely careful not to get the color under the stencil and ruin the work. One successful artist says she has overcome this difficulty by working over the stencil itself rather than in the spaces.

The materials needed are not costly. Either dyes or tube oil paints can be used. Good effects are even obtained with the powdered house paints that can be bought by the quarter-pound from any painter.

Dyes, while they show the fabric better than paints do not wear so well when the article must be laundered often. They will often fade after a few washings, even with a fixative.

As they are easier to work with than the paints, use them on dark materials and for fabrics that will not stand washing. The tube dyes are most convenient to handle, though any kind will do if they are selected for the proper materials. That is, do not attempt to color silk or woolen stuffs with a cotton dye.

Many of the dyes come ready prepared, but the oil paints must be thinned to the consistency of a thin cream with turpentine or benzine. Some workers use a thinner of one part of Japan drier to two parts of turpentine. This keeps the color from spreading easily. If a tiny pinch of sugar of lead is added it sets the color.

One experienced stenciler sets her dyes by using a half teaspoonful of gumtragaeanth. She mixes the powders with the dye before adding water which is preferably hot.

The easiest and least wasteful way to use either dye or paint is to have a number of old cups or saucers—chipped ones that will be thrown on the ash heap—and mix each color in a separate dish with a brush of its own. In this way there is less likelihood of dipping a brush into the wrong color.

In preparing a dye or color mix enough to finish a given article. It is very difficult, especially for the beginner, to match colors. If put in a corked bottle, the paint should keep at the right consistency for several days.

Never return left-over color to the fresh supply. Exposure to the air may have changed the tint. Put it in a bottle by itself and it can be thinned again with alcohol, if dye, or with benzine, if oil. Shake well before using. There are regular brushes for stencilling, with short, stiff bristles, but if you cannot find these, cut back an ordinary paint brush to the depth of three quarters of an inch from the base.

To apply the colors have a wooden table top or drawing board covered with a thick white blotting paper. Sometimes there is a thickness or two of muslin put on the table under the blotter as one would cover an ironing board.

Lay the material to be stenciled smoothly over the paper and secure it with glass push pins or thumb tacks. The stencil is then put in position and held firm by pins driven in with a tack hammer.

Push pins should be used for this, or strong ordinary pins, as tacks make holes through which an inadvertent splotch of color may work its way.

Stencil designs can be bought that are adapted to woodwork, leather, decoration, curtains, wall decorations and staining. Some of the well-known magazines for women have special stencil patterns that can be adapted to all sorts of decorative effects.

It is wiser for the novice to begin on some of these bought stencils, many of which are marked with colors to be used. Later, if one becomes interested in the art and has an artistic sense, it is possible to design one's own stencils. Patterns can also be arranged from wall paper and fancy work motifs.

Cutting the stencils is a somewhat troublesome feat. The design having first been carefully drawn, it is placed on top of a sheet of carbon paper that covers a special stencil paper which now can be bought in almost every small town where artist supplies are kept.

The design is gone over with the point of a stiletto or hard pencil until it is traced on the stencil paper.

As it is inconvenient to keep shoving a short design along the material to be colored, it is well to repeat the motif three or four times on the stencil paper. As most of the patterns are strictly conventional in type this can be easily done.

After the motif is traced the stencil paper is put upon a marble slab or pieces of thick glass to be cut out. An old marble top table is just the thing. The cutting can be done with a sharp penknife, but it is much better to buy a special stenciling knife, which is weighted and makes cutting much easier.

The chief thing in this work is to have an edge free from jaggedness. As the pattern will not hold together unless there are narrow connecting strips called ties, these must be put in wherever necessary. Needless to say they are not colored.

In applying the color, use very little, as said before, and rub it well into the material by vigorous strokes back and forth. In shifting a stencil be careful to wipe off the under part, as some color may have got on it and the fabric will be blurred.

Green, blue, crimson, lake, and yellow will be found sufficient for the majority of designs, as they can be mixed into many shadings. A good palette can be made from a shallow dish of glass with a handle at one side. These can be bought in pressed glass for five or ten cents, and are easy to handle.

The fabrics adapted to stencilling are many. Pongee, silk, chiffon, crash, muslins, leather, canvas, denim, arras cloth, monk's cloth, grass cloth, mull and even cheese cloth can be utilized for appropriate purposes.

Some of these, like pongee, velveteen and leather, are rather undependable, and it is wise to test a sample of the material with the dyes before attempting the whole design.

Thin materials should be decorated in dyes rather than in oils. A little gum arabic in the dye will make the color work more smoothly. The material should be made very taut over the blotting paper during the process.

NEW GRAND THEATRE.

Daniel Chimmins and Rosa Gore at the New Grand theatre this week have a big drawing card in their original sketch, "Like Mother Used to Make," showing a Bowery restaurant where Crimmins as the proprietor sings an excellent song, "If I Were Mayor of This Town,' and appears in three separate characters, while Miss Gore as the Bowery queen and the lady of fashion shows two remarkable contrasts, both in dress and behavior. The meals are served and eggs are cooked in a most original way and a whole lot of amusement is thrown into the period while the pair are on the stage. To be appreciated the act must be seen as it is full of incongruities that beggar description. Miss Gore makes a complete change in forty seconds and draws a picture of the Bowery that is irresistibly funny.

The Rusticana trio sings in Italian, and at yesterday's matinee and night performances had to respond to encores which were as loudly applauded as their first efforts, so that it seemed as if the audience would never tire of hearing them. They are splendid performers, both vocal and instrumental.

Minstrel Billy Clark appearing in a marvellous starched costume with a monologue is a prime entertainer. He makes his audience smile, then laugh and then roar, and keeps them roaring right to the end. His monologue is full of crisp sayings and quips, and he really tries to be amusing and succeeds all the way.

Bradlee Martin and company have a first rate little sketch dealing with the marriage of the son and large money settlements. The situations arrived at are not like real life, but serve their purpose, which is to make people laugh, very well indeed. Thomas J. Price sings "Any Old Time At All," and gets a big hand while the two moving picture films are new and interesting.

MANUFACTURING SILK IN MESSINA, SICILY

Women Do Most of the Work Only Best Quality is Produced.

From a report by Vice-Consul Ogston on the trade and industries of Messina, it appears that the actual production of raw silk in Sicily is confined to that province. The Messinese obtain most of the eggs from large firms in northern Italy, about 10 per cent. only coming from France. Landowners buy from 50 to 200 ounces, while peasants content themselves with a few ounces. Generally the eggs are bought by the landed proprietors and given to the peasant, together with the right to gather the necessary mulberry leaves (which the peasant does himself), the latter having entire charge of the worms.

Under this system the profits accruing from the sale of the cocoons are divided in the proportion of one-third to the peasant and two-thirds to the proprietor. Where the peasant buys the eggs himself he purchases the leaves from the landowner. These leaves are of two qualities—"white" and "black"—the latter being used in the later stages of the worms' growth, and a 50-pound sack costs from 9½d to 1s 2d for the "white," and from 3d to 7d for the "black" leaves. For about two pounds of cocoons the peasant can obtain from 2s to 4s. Almost the entire care of the silkworms falls on the peasant women, who become very adept in their management.

"In the province of Messina are, or were," writes Mr. Ogston, "six reeling factories, with a total of approximately 40 reels, the output being about 26,800 pounds; this quantity is considerably smaller than that of Reggio (Calabria), where there are 17 factories with 1,040 basins, and an output of 308,000 to 330,000 pounds annually. The number of employees in each factory in Messina provinces varies from 35 to as many as 400 in the four months of the busy season in the larger filatures. For each basin one 'reeler' is employed and two 'brushers' to each reeler. This labor is performed entirely by women, whose wages vary according to their skill. A reeler is paid 4s 9d to 5s 10d per week.

"That the work is attractive is shown by the fact that the same individuals continue to work for years in the same factory, their children and grandchildren following in their steps. I know of a case where a man over 60 years of age and all his children worked in the same factory, and another instance of a grandmother, mother and daughter all employed in the same filature at the same time. Only one kind of silk is manufactured, which is specially intended for net tissues, none of the poorer qualities used for velvet being spun in Messina, any variation which may exist lies in the quality of the cocoons and the size of the thread.

"The waste silk (husks or knubs) is exported to Switzerland, North Italy, and the Rhine provinces for the manufacture of the poorer classes of silk goods, the lowest grades of waste being worked up into inferior goods, principally in North Italy. One reeling factory, the largest in Messina province, had 150 basins and an annual production of 37,500 pounds of silk; it was in the hands of a large British firm of lacemakers, and its entire output was exported to the firm's mills in the south of England."

JOHN JARDINE IS THE CHOICE

UNANIMOUSLY CHOSEN TO CONTEST ESQUIMALT

Wonderful Enthusiasm Characterized Convention Held in Colwood Last Night.

John Jardine was last night again selected to run for Esquimalt in the Liberal interest at the nominating convention held at the Colwood school house. The nomination was unanimous and voted on by delegates from every district of the constituency with the exception of San Juan. Despite the downpour and the consequent state of the roads, almost every delegate to the nominating convention was present. From Sooke, fourteen miles away, A. J. Fraser, D. Muir, A. Godtel and E. Milne came through the rain to testify that the district wanted John Jardine to represent it again. From Metchosin, W. Witty, J. Wallace, C. Field and H. G. Helgensen were present, while Colwood delegates were there in force, and a tallyho automobile and closed carriage from Esquimalt carried the other delegates to the convention. All these delegates were heard from one after the other, and all testified that their districts were out for John Jardine.

The nomination was moved by J. C. McIntosh, Esquimalt, and seconded by Albert Wales, of Colwood. It was carried unanimously and with loud applause. Before the meeting brok up short addresses had been hard from a representative of every district. All reported in the same way that John Jardine was the man wanted to represent Esquimalt, and the speakers each spoke of Mr. Jardine's work in the last provincial parliament as that of an honest and earnest worker, doing his utmost for his constituents.

Mr. Jardine, called on by the chairman, said:

"In the course of my experience as one who has taken interest in the country for twenty-five years, I have been called on often to proclaim my views, but at no time have I been in such a difficult position as to-night. I feel I have not come up to the high standard that I feel I should have attained. When I was elected I was not in the best of health, and I had great diffidence regarding the responsibilities I had taken on myself. I am thankful to say I have been sustained in my position. There have been strenuous times in the House, and I think I am correct in saying that thruoghout the time I have represented Esquimalt I have only missed one vote.

"You all remember how we had to pack beds into the House last session when Attorney-General Bowser introduced the bill to disfranchise the worker of his vote. His amendment was that if the worker was two months absent from the district he would be disfranchised.

"I remember Dr. King meeting me in the corridor of the House and saying: 'John, what do you think of this?' I replied: 'It is awful. But we'll fight it for a year if we have to and protect the workers and secure them their just privileges.'"

Mr. Jardine then related to the convention the incident of the opposition being compelled to turn the parliament building into a bedroom last session. "When the Attorney-General saw us packing our beds into the House on our backs," he said, "he began to quake, for he saw we were determined fighters for interests of the workers. The Socialists buckled on their armor and helped us out. We kept them going for thirty hours. You will all remember the photographs of us sleeping in the library of the House. That was a strenuous and most anxious time for us, but we succeeded and brought the Attorney-General to time, had the two months' clause struck out and a six months' clause inserted. (Loud cheers.)

"Now, gentlemen, we are confronted with a railway policy and I advise every elector to weigh the McBride railway policy most carefully. The government proposes to put a load of forty-six million dollars on the backs of the people. That is the sum total of the policy, and when they do that we the people of British Columbia have not one spike interest in the road we can call our own, and we are expected to carry that burden without saying one word about it.

"They have tacked on to the Mainland proposition the Barkley Sound railway without referring to the syndicate that owns the charter. This is just to mislead the Esquimalt electors, but there is not one charter-holder that has been asked to dispose of a single share."

Mr. Jardine then compared the McBride proposition with the Dominion subsidies offered for railway building. He said the McBride policy was deception pure and simple, and that time would show his word was the truth. "Some of us," he said, "will remember the E. & N. railway, where $750,000 cold cash was paid for seventy-five miles of road by the government. It is all very well to say that property values will increase, but the farmers and property owners will have a load of $46,000,000 to meet, and what then will become of the property values?

"You will all remember in the first session of the last parliament that $9,000 was set aside for this district outside of bridge construction work. When the estimates were being considered I expressed surprise that the government had been so mean to Esquimalt and I got $12,000. I had an express promise from the premier himself. The next year I told him the revenue from Esquimalt district was $42,000.

"The estimates amounted to $13,500. I was sent for. The chief commissioner had Mr. Peatt's statement there. He said: 'What do you think of that?' I told him I was disgusted and would not endorse that amount. I said I'd leave the room and that I wanted $25,000; we were entitled to nearly fifty per cent of the revenue. He promised to lay the matter before the executive and the next day I received a note from the premier asking if I would appreciate $25,000. I accepted but stipulated that $13,500 was to be spent in Colwood district from the four-mile house. We were also to have a steam drill and rock crusher and work done on Lampson and Head streets. Now, gentlemen, that $25,000 has been spent and we haven't got anything done and we haven't got the rock crusher. Now there is Dr. Fagan, provincial health officer. Within a stone's throw of his door you can't hold your breakfast over the drain the stench is so awful. It is not his fault. It lies with those higher up, the lower officials are but political hacks.'

"It is the same with the licensing system. The man in charge is nothing but a buffet. If there is any crime committed you have to go to Mr. Hussey, and if its a good henchman of the Conservative party you have to go to the attorney-general and there you'll find the tracks are covered up. Even Gun-a-Noot is still at large. He is not captured yet and the attorney-general has had a trip to the Mediterranean.

"These are small but serious things. I am satisfied that when I ask for a commission to inquire into the spending of that $25,000 that commission will be appointed but we want an impartial commission.

"I have no doubt at all that John Oliver will lead the Liberals to victory and his constituents are in accord with his running for the capital. Mr. Oliver will get the largest majority he ever had in the Delta. The farmers are at the back of him. They say: 'It is the only time we have had a man like ourselves to represent us,' and there are many substantial Conservatives in the Delta going to vote for Mr. Oliver.

"In Vancouver the Liberals have never been as strong as they are now. All the Conservatives throughout the mainland districts are afraid of the premier's railway policy. Mr. Oliver is prepared to build a railway from Yellow Head Pass and we will have the right connections and not Englishman's bluff. He, however, will speak on this matter himself."

Mr. Jardine referred to the fact that 12,900 acres of timber lands are given to corporations and not worked asking: "Why don't the government have the timber lands surveyed, put cruisers out, and form an estimate and then go round as they go round to the property of the Liberal farmers every year and assess a fair market value. The timber is our grandest asset and in this connection as in others the government has done its level best to hoodwink and deceive the people."

Mr. Jardine thanked the people for the confidence shown in him and promised to do his duty in the future as in the past.

J. C. McIntosh, in moving the nomination of Mr. Jardine at the commencement of the meeting, said he had carried out every promise made, and paid attention to the district, the individual and to the every day worker. His work in the House had been for the district. He had been elected by a majority of 84 and had the honor of being the first Liberal representative of the district. The lists were never in better shape, said Mr. McIntosh, and the increase is mainly Liberal. At the present revision, he said, the Conservatives added 60 names and the Liberals 80. The Conservative attempt to strike off Liberal names had been frustrated. Mr. Pooley had yesterday tried to strike off 82 Liberals without success, and these Liberals do not feel kindly to the Conservatives.

Mr. Wales briefly seconded the nomination.

Before the meeting adjourned a vote of thanks was accorded the chairman, A. W. McCurdy.

The list of delegates to the convention is as follows:

Colwood—A. Peatt, R. Clarke, F. C. Powell and A. E. Wales.

Metchosin—W. Witty, J. Wallace, C. Field and H. C. Helgensen.

Sooke and Otter Point—A. J. Fraser, D. Muir, A. Godtel and E. Milne.

San Juan—J. J. Baird and J. P. Williams.

Esquimalt—John Jardine, A. W. McCurdy, J. C. McIntosh, A. H. Dobson, W. Thompson, Ed. Williams, C. N. Tuliman, W. J. Slow, James Finmore, S. Thomas, H. S. Moody, F. Guest, R. H. Nunn and J. Pauline.

In addition to the delegates there were a large number of electors in the hall.

In the statistical tables of the Dublin metropolitan police it is pointed out that the average actual daily loss sustained by the public from theft is set at £10 12s., against £101 18s. 4d. in 1907, and £49 14s. 1d. in 1906. The gross loss in the three years mentioned was £5,614, £38,948 and £20,037.

Million for a New Stomach

It is said that Mr. Rockefeller, one of the world's richest men, offered one million dollars to any physician who would make his stomach strong enough to digest an ordinary meal. With all his money, this multimillionaire is compelled to live on milk and crackers.

What a warning this is to men and women who are beginning to realize that "they have a stomach!"

Slight attacks of indigestion soon develop into acute attacks. The weakened stomach quickly becomes weaker under the continued strain of digesting unsuitable food. Chronic Dyspepsia makes a strict diet imperative, and life miserable.

Yet how unnecessary all this suffering is! "Fruit-a-tives"—that splendid stomach tonic—will give you what millionaires cannot buy, a clean, sweet, healthy stomach which will be capable of digesting any reasonable meal.

"Fruit-a-tives" made from concentrated and intensified fruit juice, acts directly on the stomach, increases the flow of the digestive juices and corrects the faults of digestion.

"Fruit-a-tives" or "Fruit Liver Tablets" is not only a positive and speedy cure for all these troubles. It also acts as a general tonic, building up and strenthening the entire system. Frequently those, who have been cured of Stomach and Bowel Troubles, write to the Company, stating that they are enjoying better health than ever before.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all druggists and dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial box, 25c.—or may be obtained from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

TRAM COMPANY WELCOMES RAIN

WILL INCREASE WATER SUPPLY AT GOLDSTREAM

Had Dry Season Continued Crisis Would Have Been Reached.

The torrential rains of the past couple of days, while inconveniencing people to some small extent, and being responsible for considerable damage to drain pipes and sewers in some sections of the city, have proved very welcome to the Esquimalt Waterworks Company and the British Columbia Electric Railway Company. Few people are aware that had not rains set in just when they did, a very serious situation might have confronted this city in the matter of power and light. Happily, however, all danger has now been averted, the latest reports from Goldstream being that as a result of the terrific downpour the lakes have all risen to a great extent already, and will of course increase in depth for the next few days, as all the small streams feeding them are now raging torrents. In an effort to conserve the water supply at Goldstream, the B. C. Electric Company had been preparing to cut down its requirement for the power house there to two million gallons per day. Under ordinary conditions the company uses fifteen million gallons per day, but owing to the fact that the summer has been an exceptionally dry one, it was seen some two months ago that an effort would have to be made to make supplementary arrangements for power. In August last the steam plant was put in operation, the company recognising thus early the necessity of conserving the water. This reduced the requirement to 7,000,000 gallons. As time passed and there was little prospect for a heavy rainfall, it was decided to start up a second steam plant, and this would have reduced the requirement to two million gallons, but now, in consequence of the recent rain, it will not be necessary to utilize the second plant.

Just as soon as the Jordan river power plant shall have been placed in operation there will be no necessity for the company to depend either upon their steam plants in the city or upon Goldstream, though these facilities will no doubt be maintained in a state of efficiency so as to be ready for any emergency.

LIBERALS NAME CANDIDATES

"Agreement! We are told it is not an agreement at all. It is simply the basis of an agreement to be chopped and changed as Dan Mann may desire," said Mr. Wade.

"We are to be saddled at this short notice with a liability of $21,000,000 in principal, and adding interest at 4 per cent. for 30 years, $45,000,000 in all. Yet in three or four weeks in a country like this, with scattered settlements isolated by mountain ranges, locked from end to end like one huge fortress, the electors are asked to pronounce on this agreement. Was ever a greater indignity perpetrated on any community?"

He then turned his attention to the News-Advertiser, saying that some time ago he had read an editorial asking whether it was wise to parallel a railway in existence, and whether it was wise to undertake such a liability. They had been promised a continuance of such articles, but he had looked for them in vain, though in the issue of October 30th, the News-Advertiser had said it would not discuss the agreement seriatim, nor must the electors for a moment imagine that this was the only issue before them. So that at this early stage the News-Advertiser was trying to draw a red herring, or rather to deodorize the bad smell the agreement had left behind it.

He reviewed next Mr. Tatlow's position. He had been praised for his careful financing and building up the financial strength of the province, but had been told that its credit must be thrust back into a worse position than it was when he first found it. It would mean with the provincial debt a liability of $60,000,000 against 300,000 people. How would their credit stand under such a strain? He (Mr. Wade) had no desire to engage in public life, but when it was attempted to take the province by the throat with such a bargain, he felt is was his duty to come out of his shell and fight it where he could.

He characterized Mr. McBride's position as one of cowardice, and in face of the defection from the McBride government, the defection of Mr. Wilson, Mr. Tatlow, Mr. Fulton and Mr. Garden—he did not mention Mr. Green, of course—but in face of this, it would be dastardly on their parts to let this opportunity pass of meeting and routing the foe.

CONVICT'S CONSCIENCE.

Surrenders to Police to Save Innocent Man From Prison.

An ex-convict named John Williams walked into Colchester, Eng., police station the other night and made confession of having perpetrated a burglary near Newmarket.

He said he was disturbed by a young man whom he felled, and then fled. Later he was detained on suspicion, and paraded with others, but his victim picked out another man as his assailant.

This other man was now in prison, and as he did not like the idea of an innocent man suffering for his offence he gave himself up.

Asked for his licence, he said he had torn it up, after doing five years in Pentonville for stealing boots.

At the police court he was sentenced to a month's hard labor

what is going on behind the curtain, and none of us know what is going on behind in regard to this agreement.

"But we do know that two ministers who were behind the curtain and saw what was going on, saw what the public did not see, preferred to break up their associations of over ten years, give up their $6,200, break up their homes in beautiful Victoria, sever their social relations here—they preferred to do these things sooner than be a party to what was going on behind the scenes. If the contract met with such emphatic condemnation by those who knew what was going on is it not proof positive that it should be rejected by people who did not know?"

Wasteful Dealing With Resources.

Mr. Oliver went into the manner in which the McBride government has dealt with the natural resources of the province, and pointed out that if a remnant of the wealth of the province was to be saved for the people it must be done now. Our timber lands had gone largely into the hands of foreign capitalists, who held timber worth millions of dollars which, if property handled and utilized, could have produced enough revenue to carry on the government of the province, public works and all, for generations to come. Hundreds of thousands of acres of the best agricultural lands had passed into the hands of alien capitalists who held them at exorbitant prices, and all the while these were thus kept out of the reach of actual settlers, the province had to import annually seven million dollars worth of farm produce which ought to be grown at home.

"No matter where one looked on the natural resources of the province, whether land, timber, minerals or fish, the wealth of the province was being drained to build up communities in foreign countries or other provinces." Continuing Mr. Oliver said:

"I put it to you that if British Columbia is to prosper, if our children are to have an opportunity in the future, the natural wealth of the province now being drained out should be re-invested here, so that as that wealth is exhausted other sources will take their place.

Aid to Railways.

"In dealing with railways we will not forget that the revenues come out of the people. While we will aid them we will not do it on conditions which will make slaves and serfs of the people. We propose in all these things to ever keep in view, as the object to which we are working, the advancement of the interests of the people of the whole province, not any particular class. It is not Liberal policy, it is not Liberal doctrine, to build up an aristocratic or capitalist class, nor is it Liberal policy to go to the other extreme and bring about a state of anarchy. But it is good Liberal doctrine to legislate for the good of the whole people. Whether along any of these lines or to put in force laws in regard to Asiatics it is ever with us the aim and object to uplift the whole people, and I intend that it shall continue to be so while I have the honor of leading the party.

"We want to give every man who is thrifty an opportunity to benefit through the natural resources of our province. We want to augment our present sparse population by filling up our vacant spaces with people of our own blood. We ask you to put in office a government which will tend to the enactment of the objects we have in view."

Brewster Proud of Leader.

H. C. Brewster, who had just got down from the west coast, where he is conducting a winning fight for his old seat, congratulated the Victoria Liberals on the enthusiasm and confidence with which they were going into the campaign. Speaking of J. A. Macdonald he said the late leader would unquestionably have made a splendid premier. At the close of each session the Liberal members had felt that their leader had displayed new phases of his character. However, in the fighting lieutenant of the late leader he and every member of the party had a leader under whose guidance they would fight with equal confidence and vigor.

Mr. Brewster related a legislative incident in proof of Mr. Oliver's patriotic spirit, and his devotion to the good of the province before party advantage. Nothing that was a mere question of ins and outs was ever considered by honest John Oliver of Delta; the good of the province alone appealed to him.

Regarding the alleged railway contract, Mr. Brewster said the agreement was not a contract, and the things said to be in the contract were not even in the agreement. The people of Alberni were fully awake to all these facts and were asking questions which were proving very awkward for the government candidate.

It was said Asiatic labor was to be guarded against. The province had a recent example of the government's insincerity in that regard. During the discussion of the exemption of the E. & N. on its Wellington-Alberni extension the opposition moved that Asiatic labor be prohibited; it was pointed out that if they were given exemption the least they could do was to employ white labor only. Premier McBride drew the red herring of Ottawa across the trail and refused to consider the resolution, putting in one of his own which he said would be just as strong. In spite of this when Japs were cutting the price on ties three to five cents, and he complained to the minister of public works, the statement was made by the superintendent of the E. & N. that cutting ties had nothing to do with railway construction! This was an instance of how the McBride government and its supporters yelled white and acted yellow.

On the matter of local option, Mr. Brewster called attention to the manner in which the attorney-general manipulates the license department in the interests of the government.

In closing Mr. Brewster referred to the fact that it is the young Liberals in the Old Country and everywhere who were putting up the fight for Liberalism, and the same thing was found in Victoria and Alberni.

What Victoria Needs.

H. A. Munn, president of the club, said that what the capital needed was representatives who would be Victorians in sentiment. Hitherto this city had been shoved to one side in favor of other places. This city, alone of all the capitals in Canada, had no normal school, thanks to the government of its late senior member. Mr. Munn expressed the belief that if the holders of the Victoria & Barkley Sound charter had been given the same encouragement being offered the Canadian Northern, work would be under way in thirty days. He also spoke briefly of local option and other moral issues involved in the campaign, laying stress on the need for improvement in penologic methods.

The meeting concluded with cheers for Mr. Oliver.

OPPORTUNITIES IN THE ORIENT

CANADIANS SHOULD SECURE BUSINESS

Development of Country Will Cause Demand for Material Canada Can Supply.

Canada's opportunities for trade expansion in China and Japan are being well set forth by her agents in those countries. That there are immense opportunities in those countries and that Canada should busy herself in getting her share of the trade is also apparent. Canada has the raw material while China needs the manufactured goods. That country is awakening, and with the awakening is coming a demand for the civilization of the Occident. J. B. Jackson, the trade commissioner at Shanghai, in a recent report says:

To all appearances China is in the near future going in for an unparalleled amount of railway construction; the development of the country demands it since the water ways, which have been sufficient in the past, are now entirely inadequate to bring the products of this vast country to the markets within a reasonable time. The Chinese ministry, governors, nobles, gentry, officials and merchants are almost all unanimous in this view, and it would not astonish those who are well acquainted with Chinese politics and with the trend of public opinion here, if this development would surprise even western nations by its extent.

Hitherto China has had no money of her own wherewith to build lines to develop the resources of its country. Private citizens had the available money in plentitude but were averse to opening their money bays for that purpose, uncertainty and distrust of the government and of each other was in the air, the inevitable "squeeze" was predominant, no private individual's money was safe in such enterprises. Now opinion is changing rapidly, the moneyed men of China (and their name is legion), are beginning to see the immense advantage which has accrued to foreigners from these enterprises, and conditions becoming more stable, are anxious to participate in the profits.

The diplomatic quarrels between the nations as to who should participate in the different concessions, and the bickerings and disagreements as to the proportionate part of the capital to be contributed by the "great" powers for the purpose of these undertakings, are causing the thinking Chinese to see the value of these undertakings in which the profits in the past have been divided amongst China's "friends." In the next few years millions of gold will be expended here in materials for railway construction, steel rails, bridges, locomotives, sleepers and the hundred and one things required in such enterprises.

There will be a great chance here for Canada if she will avail herself of the opportunities offered; she can provide all materials; her railway builders, engineers, and contractors from the experience they have gained in the wonderful railway development in our own land, know the question of railway construction thoroughly. In the past the great commercial powers have not only participated in the profits accruing from the different loans and concessions, in the first instance, but have insisted on their full share in the commerce that these new railways open up.

The great railway line Canton to Peking will soon be an accomplished fact; the northern section from Hankow on the Yangtze to Peking has been completed and taken over entirely by the Chinese, and has been making a net profit of 40,000 to 50,000 Mex. per day during the last six months. This railway crosses the country from north to south, and at Hankow is 700 miles inland, whilst its two extremities are on the sea, the south one at Kowloon (opposite Hong Kong) on the mainland, the northern one being at Peking (80 miles from the sea at Tientsing), thus giving direct communication with the Manchurian railways and in turn direct connection with the trans-Siberian at Mukden.

This railway crosses or intersects a great number of the great provinces of China as follows:

Provinces.	Populations.
Chili	39,000,000
Shansi	12,000,000
Shantung	38,000,000
Honan	28,000,000

Hunan	22,000,000
Kiangsi	25,000,000
Kwangtung	32,000,000
Total	221,000,000

HELPED TO MAKE CITY BEAUTIFUL

Hamilton Society Gives Rewards to Enterprising Citizens.

The citizens who believe in a city beautiful and have striven to make Hamilton such were rewarded a few evenings ago at a meeting of the Civic Improvement Society when prizes were presented to those who devoted a little time to their gardens, back yards and window boxes during the summer. The society met in the council chamber at the city hall and several hundred members and competitors were on hand. R. T. Steele, president of the society, opened the meeting by explaining how the competition and the judging had been carried out and of the future plans of the society and what it had accomplished in the past. He said the intentions of the society were to take up other than flower-growing matters and that in the spring bulb competitions would be held.

He commented on the garbage collecting system here and said that a better one ought to be inaugurated and collections made twice a week at least instead of once a week. Some of the ugliest things about Hamilton were the alleys, but he was pleased to see that the keen competition in regard to clean backyards was doing a lot to remedy that evil. On Charlton avenue, where he lived, it cost fourteen or fifteen residents a dollar each a year to have the alley cleaned out. He spoke of two matters the society had recently passed strong resolutions in favor of. One was the removal of the old and unsightly fence around Gore park. He thought the opportunity for that had come now, as the merchants had agreed to brighten up the block with ornamental lights. The other was in regard to a park at the beach. As far back as 25 years ago he advocated the purchase of property to make such a park, but it was still being thought over by the parks board and the general public had practically no access to the water there now. He mentioned Centre Island, Toronto, as an example of a public park and said it was an admirable place. He also spoke of the need of a park in the south end.

John Hoodless, president of the Greater Hamilton Association, said that a city beautiful was an asset any place might boast of, and it also added to the good health of the citizens. One thing needed was for some person to offer a valuable prize to the north end residents to clean up the water front. As it stood at present the north end gave people coming here by steamer a bad impression of the city. One thing he stood for in the matter of citizens was quality instead of numerical strength.

W. A. Robinson and Mayor McLaren spoke briefly on the problem of making the city beautiful and congratulated the society on the excellent progress it was making in that direction. Mayor McLaren said that while he was breaking a city by-law in inviting the society to meet in the council chamber, he was glad to see people there who were not asking for something. It was a must unusual thing for people who wished to do something to be seen in the council chamber. All who visited there wanted a city beautiful, but wanted something at the expense of the citizens to make particular parts beautiful and did not want to help do anything.

WOMAN AND HER CATS.

Takes Revenge in Postcards for Loss of Her Two Pets in a Home.

An unusual libel charge, in which the death of two cats was involved, was heard at the West London police court.

In the evidence against Mary Polak, fifty-four, a well-dressed woman of no address or occupation, it was stated that she had sent scandalous postcards to Thomas Mitchelsen, chairman of the Mayhew Cat and Dog Home, Pensard road, Harrow road, Paddington, where she had sent two cats.

The postcards described Mr. Mitchelsen, among other things, as a "white old humbug," and contained phrases so offensive that the postal officials stopped some of them.

The defendant said to Mr. Plowden: "I placed two cats in the home because I was poor and couldn't keep them. I wrote to them to ask them not to destroy the cats until they heard from me."

The magistrate sent Polak for trial.

CENTENARIAN DEAD.

The death took place at St. Columb Minor, near Newquay, Cornwall, of Mr. James Carne.

He was in his 104th year, and was well known througnout the country as England's oldest parish clerk. During the visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales to Cornwall in June he was presented to their Royal Highnesses.

Salesmanship and Advertising

They are the Twin Screw Engines that Drive the Business Ship, says an Expert.

The following paragraphs are taken from an address delivered by Mr. Hugh Chalmers. The opinions of this gentleman are entitled to every respect, for he has "made good" at the head of two big propositions, viz., the National Cash Register, and the Chalmers - Detroit Motor Car.

"The relation of salesmanship to advertising is the closest relationship known—closer than friends; closer than a team under a single yoke; closer than brothers; closer than man and wife, as there can never be separation and divorce.

"All salesmanship is advertising, and all advertising is part salesmanship; they are the twin screw engines that drive the ship of business.

"They are like a chemical compound, each contains the other and is itself the thing contained.

Results Worth While.

"So with salesmanship and advertising. Each is a power alone, but combine them and you have the greatest business producing force known. It takes brains to create, and combine them, and it takes nerve to touch them off, but the results are worth while.

"Every ad. is a salesman; every salesman is an ad. Advertising is salesmanship plus publicity. Salesmanship is advertising, plus getting the order signed.

Advertising is Teaching.

"Advertising and salesmanship are alike in that in both you are trying to influence the human mind—trying to teach people to believe in you and your goods. Advertising is teaching; so is salesmanship.

Build up Confidence.

"The close relationship of salesmanship to advertising is most apparent perhaps when we get clear down to bedrock and discover the real foundation of salesmanship—of doing business successfully. The whole business world rests on a foundation of confidence. When confidence is gone, business is gone.

"Individual salesmanship depends upon confidence as much as any other transaction in business. If a man has confidence in you and in your goods you can sell him. You cannot make sales where confidence is lacking. If your prospect lacks confidence in you then your entire efforts must go to building up in his mind a feeling of confidence.

"Now the greatest builder of confidence is publicity—advertising. Lack of confidence is usually due to ignorance. Unless you know a man well you haven't confidence in him. Unless you know a business house well you haven't confidence in that house. The greatest foe of ignorance is publicity. The saying that 'publicity corrects all abuses' is a true one. Advertising makes you acquainted with the public. It gives people knowledge about you and your goods, and knowledge is absolutely essential to confidence. Big advertising looks like big sales; it makes people familiar with you, it unconsciously creates confidence. Without a doubt the greatest force to-day in the interest of confidence—in the interest of credit if you will—is advertising."

AMUR COMING HOME WITH INJURED HULL

Blade and Half Broken From Steamer's Propeller Near Skidegate.

Very meagre news has been received of an accident to the steamer Amur, Captain Locke, at the Queen Charlotte Islands in the neighborhood of Skidegate. The Amur has no wireless apparatus aboard so that she was unable to communicate until she arrived at Prince Rupert. So far as can be gathered she went on the rocks and cut a hole in the bottom, the water filling one of her tanks. The propeller was also injured, one of the blades and part of another having been broken off. She will go to Vancouver before coming to this port to dock.

Captain Locke has been very lucky with the steamer, no accident of any consequence having happened her for years. The Queen Charlotte Islands coast is very imperfectly charted, that being the next work to be undertaken by the survey steamer Lillooet, after she has completed the work now in hand.

RICART DE SOLER WILL LOAD LUMBER

Barque Has Capacity to Carry Over 2,000,000 Feet.

The four-masted barque Ricart de Soler, captained by Miguel de Angelo, which arrived yesterday, was this morning towed up to Chemainus to load lumber for Iquique. She is a big carrier, having capacity for over two million feet of lumber. Her owners are lumber merchants at Iquique and she is operated in connection with the lumber yard.

This is the second time that the Ricart de Soler has drifted into port during a gale. On her last voyage she arrived on Christmas day, and then the weather was even worse than it was yesterday.

Tug Lorne, which took the Ricart de Soler up to her loading port, will go direct to Vancouver to tow the George W. Wolff to sea.

SHIP NEW PROPELLERS.

Mauretania to Go to Drydock Next Month for Alteration.

The newcastle correspondent of the Shipping Gazette is responsible for the statement that as soon as the busy season is over—probably in November or December—the Mauretania will go into drydock and be fitted with new propellers, from which an average speed of 26 knots is confidently expected. The recent improved speed of the Lusitania is entirely due to the new propellers with which she was recently fitted — propellers which by the way, were designed at Wallsend, and were originally intended for the Mauretania.

Steamer Princess Ena is being tied up and her crew paid off for a short time. Capt. Gunn, who has been in command of that vessel, has gone back

NANAIMO PILOTS KEPT VERY BUSY

GREAT DEMAND FOR ISLAND COAL

Growth of Trade on Coast Responsible for Coal Shortage.

The Nanaimo pilots have been very busy of late. During the grain season there is generally a busy time, as many ships pass up to Ladysmith, Nanaimo and Comox to fill their bunkers. The growth of the coal export business and the general increase of business during the past year or two has resulted in keeping the pilots who guide the ships to and from the coaling ports working night and day. An average of more than one ship a day has been taken up for several weeks, and the pilots are wondering when they will be able to catch up in the matter of sleep.

Still the pilots are not as busy as they might have been if there had been plenty of coal for all the vessels that wanted it. Some have had to wait days and even weeks before they could be supplied, and at every coal port, including Boat Harbor, there are always vessels waiting for fuel. The recent accident at the Extension mines helped to accentuate the situation. Vancouver Island has the coal, but some of the mines are not yet sufficiently developed to allow of a large number of men working in them. By next year it is hoped that the Suquash mines will be running, and then the northern steamers may be able to take their supplies at that point and relieve the congestion farther south.

Vancouver Island ports are not the only ones that are being kept busy. News from Portland states that twenty-eight foreign vessels and 17 coasters are in port, representing the greatest tonnage assembled in the harbor for a number of years. At the rate the fleet is increasing it will not be long until every preceding record is broken, for the arrivals are more numerous than the departures. At least that has been the case during the past week.

The offshore vessels alone are of 58,355 tons net register, and the fleet is capable of handling 100,000 tons. Of the fleet there are 20 windjammers and eight steamships. A few of these are here to take out lumber cargoes. But the exclusive grain-carriers have capacity for taking care of 75,000 tons of wheat, equivalent to 2,503,000 bushels. Each is under charter for this purpose with the exception of six sailers.

With so many ships in the river loading and discharging cargoes, the berths at the docks are at a premium. The necessity for mooring buoys or anchorage grounds at some point in the lower harbor was never so forcibly illustrated. Many of the new arrivals are forced to drop anchor in the stream till berths can be provided for them. Some of the exporters believe the problem would be solved by placing a row of dolphins at a convenient point below the steel bridge on the east side of the river. In that vicinity there is a big tract of vacant water frontage, which it is explained, might as well be utilized by the owners until they get ready to build on it.

The numerous craft manage to keep the port of Portland towboats busily occupied practically every hour of the day, and big part of the night. The grain and lumber vessels are frequently shifting about from one dock to another, discharging and completing their cargoes. To handle the river demands it has been necessary for the superintendent of the tugs to engage outside boats.

But, so far a splendid service has been afforded, according to the captains of the ocean-going fleet. It is seldom they have not been accommodated with a tug for shifting the ships soon after making their applications. The only drawback, apparently, is the limited number of berths at the docks.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Information has been received this day that one of the buoys at the entrance to the harbor of Metlakatla has gone adrift and is now in a misleading and useless position. Also that the spar buoy marking Burnaby shoal, Vancouver harbor, is not on its station.

These aids to navigation will be remoored in their proper positions as soon as possible.

KNIGHT OF THISTLE CHARTERED BY HOLTS

Steamer Will Be Auxiliary to Blue Funnel Steamers on Orient Run.

Owing to the large amount of overflow cargo resulting from the heavy shipments of canned salmon to Europe, Dodwell & Co., Pacific coast agents for the Blue Funnel line, have chartered the British steamer Knight of the Thistle, Capt. Baker, to load freight on the Sound for Oriental ports. The Blue Funnel liner Keemun, Capt. Comadi, which steams for the Orient to-morrow morning, is unable to care for the large amount of freight offering, and by the time the liner Oanfa is ready to depart, there will be almost twice as much cargo offering as she can carry.

One of the largest shipments of canned salmon from the Sound in several years is that going on the Blue Funnel liner Keemun to-morrow. The Keemun will have about 210,000 cases for Europe.

The Knight of the Thistle will arrive on the Sound about November 17th from Santa Rosalia, and will take cargo at the usual loading ports of the Blue Funnel liners, Tacoma, Seattle, Vancouver and Victoria. She will leave the Sound about the same time as the liner Oanfa whose steaming time is December 1st.

The Knight of the Thistle loaded wheat at Tacoma last year for Kerr, Gifford J Co. She is a steamer of 4,286 net tons, and will carry 11,500 tons. She was there last October, leaving October 14th for the United Kingdom with her grain cargo.

This is the first time in several years that the Holt people have found it necessary to charter an extra steamer to care for their Oriental business. The trade between these waters and the Orient has been increasing steadily, and all of the lines now operating in this service are carrying large cargoes.

TEN MEN RESCUED FROM SCHOONER

Halibut Vessel Went on Dungeness Spit Yesterday.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Port Townsend, Wash., Nov. 2.—From the fishing schooner Deahks, hard aground on Dungeness Spit, 500 yards west of the lighthouse at that point, the United States revenue cutter Snohomish yesterday rescued the crew of ten men, including Captain S. M. Larson, bringing the party here.

Bound for Seattle to deliver a catch of 22,000 pounds of fresh halibut taken off Cape Flattery, the Deahks went aground at an early hour Sunday morning. For the 36 hours subsequent the heaviest weather of the year has prevailed, giving local shipping interests the impression that a total loss will result.

The schooner is owned by the Standard Fish Company, of Seattle.

The Snohomish is attempting to-day to float the schooner.

WRAY CASTLE.

Vessels Under Charter to Robt. Ward & Co. Expected Any Time.

Two vessels are about due here from the Old Country consigned to Robert Ward & Co., of this city and Vancouver. These are the Wray Castle, which is 167 days out from Liverpool, and the French barque Max, which sailed from London June 10th, Cherbourg June 13th, and was reported at Hobart September 10th.

The Wray Castle has a mixed cargo of sewer pipes, salt, firebricks and pig iron. She has 2,400 tons in all. The Max has a full cargo of cement. Both will clear at the local quarantine station and go direct to Vancouver.

REWARD OFFERED FOR CARIBOO BANDITS

Five Hundred Each for Men Who Held Up the Stage.

Supt. Hussey has not received any further details of the hold-up of the Cariboo stage near 150-Mile House. It has been decided to offer a reward of $500 for each of the two bandits and Supt. Hussey wired this to Constable Yolland at 150-Mile House last night. The intimation of the reward will be made widely through the district, and it is likely that it will be as effectual as on the last occasion the Cariboo mail was robbed.

That was fifteen years ago, when Charlie Brown held the stage up close to where Sunday morning's crime was committed and got away with some $4,000. He was caught within ninety miles.

The spot is a wild one. Constable Yolland got after the bandits within an hour of the crime, but owing to the nature of the country Supt. Hussey does not expect to hear from him for a few days. Two bags of registered mail have been stolen, but the value of the contents has not yet been learned from the senders.

PLAINTIFFS TOO LONG IN BRINGING ACTION

Action of Pamphlett vs. Cotsford Dismissed for That Reason.

The case of Pamphlett vs. Cotsford was concluded before Mr. Justice Irving at noon, and His Lordship dismissed the action on the ground that the plaintiffs had delayed too long in bringing action.

The suit is a family affair and arises over a land transaction which took place twenty years ago. Capt. Pamphlett and his sons sought to have it declared that the step-son of the older plaintiff was trustee for them of five sections on Prevost Island, but he claimed that he held for three years and as they did not take up the land he took it up for himself.

The counsel in the case were Frank Higgins for plaintiffs, and R. T. Elliott, K. C., for defendant.

HALOWE'EN CONCERT.

Delightful Entertainment Given in First Presbyterian Church Last Night.

Notwithstanding the very stormy and disagreeable weather which prevailed all day and last night a very large audience assembled to hear the concert (Hallowe'en) prepared by the First Presbyterian church choir under the direction of J. G. Brown. The choir was much smaller in numbers than usual but sang their various selections in an acceptable manner. Miss M. Sexsmith made her debut at these concerts and captivated her audience from the start by her modest and unassuming manner, as well as by her sweet and pleasant voice, receiving a rousing encore. Miss Irene Carson also made her debut and secured an encore for her rendering of "A Wee Bit Shy." Miss Lawson in her recitations; Mr. Will Brown in his comic selections; Mr. Jesse Longfield in violin selections; Mr. Wm. Galt in his stirring Scotch songs and Mr. J. G. Brown in his selections all received well merited encores.

Mrs. Butler, who was expected to sing, was suffering from tonsilletas and could not appear, and a male quartette was also cut out on account of the illness of one of the four. Rev. Dr. Campbell presided. Mrs. Lewis Hall again acted as accompanist for the whole of the artists in a most acceptable manner.

RETIRING FROM COLUMBIA.

New York, Nov. 2.—Prof. J. Howard Vanamringe, dean of Columbia College, will retire from active service on June 30th, 1910, after completing his 50th year of service on the Columbia faculty. His resignation was presented at a meeting of the university board of trustees yesterday. Prof. Vanamringe will be 75 years old when he retires, and was graduated from Columbia in 1860.

FASTING RESULTS IN DEATH.

New York, Nov. 2.—Orthodoxy so uncompromising that it prevailed even over the instinct of self-preservation, caused the death yesterday in the Ellis Island hospital of Gillella Breiner, a young Hebrew immigrant. On the ninth day of her voyage across the Atlantic the girl could not obtain kosher food, and so fasted with the result that yesterday she died.

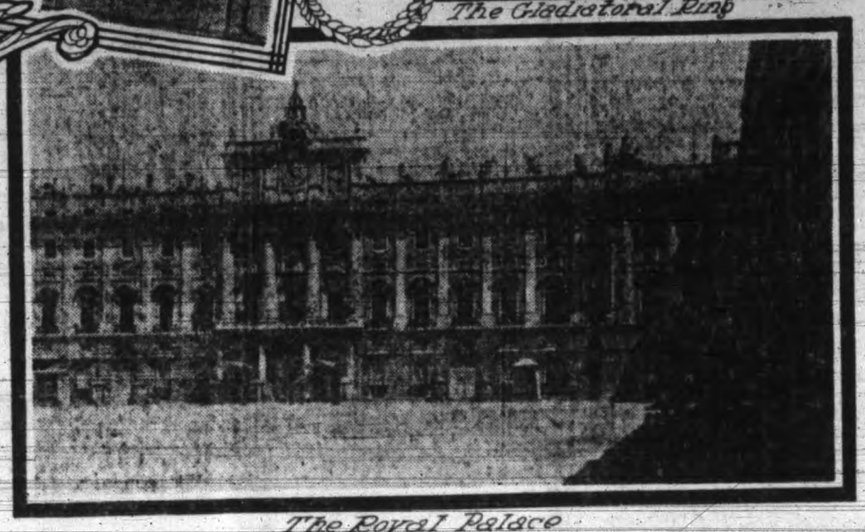
MADRID, the Capital of SPAIN

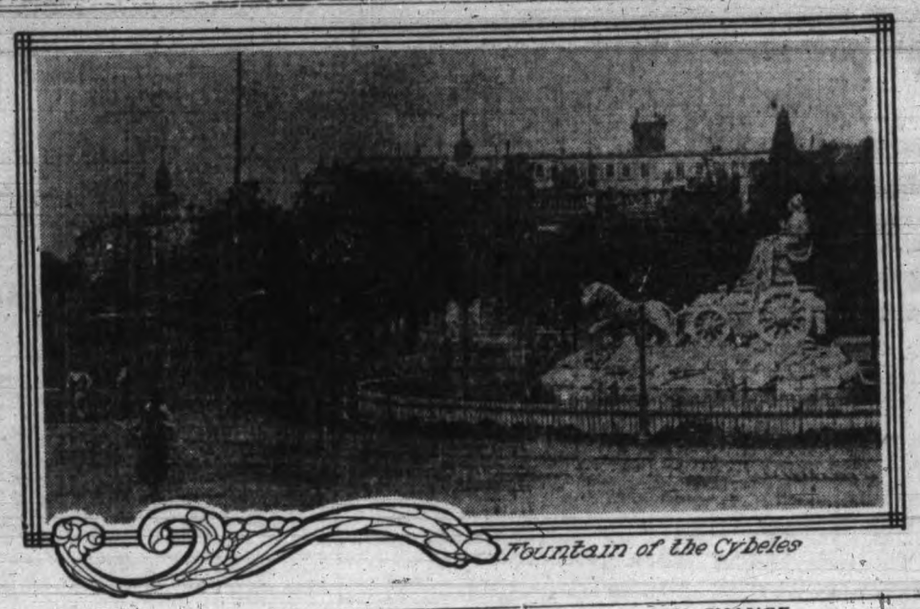
By Delia Austrian

Triumphal Arch

The Gladiatoral Ring



The Royal Palace



Fountain of the Cybeles

Madrid is not the largest of the European capitals, but it is extremely cosmopolitan, and well kept. Like all capitals, it is most attractive in the winter and spring, when the place is alive with diplomats and foreigners.

After leaving the station we wander into a large street which brings us to an enormous square called the Puerta del Sol. The shape is certainly as odd as the size, for it is semi-circular and surrounded by a great many high buildings. In the centre is an enormous fountain, which really suggests a miniature lake. From here radiate ten fine streets, like so many spoke in a wheel. There is life and gayety here all day, from early morning until close on midnight. In the early morning a continual stream of men and women pass through the square on their way to work. Toward midday many equipages pass by, occupied by well-dressed Spanish women and by diplomats on the way to the palace. In the afternoon the large square is filled with carriages containing beautifully gowned women and highly uniformed men starting off for the afternoon airing. On pleasant afternoons it is a central place for men and women to hold informal receptions, whiling away a happy hour in laughter and conversation.

After 5 o'clock the square is heavily crowded with representatives of all social classes, from the most exclusive nobility to the poorest working people, out for a lark and supper at one and another of the many-priced cafes. Judging from the hundreds of people who swarm the Puerta del Sol and the adjoining streets after 5 o'clock, one imagines that the city is largely filled with idlers. This is not exactly true, as in Spain all classes, from Government officials to the working people, give themselves up to pleasure after 5 o'clock.

The square is well named, for it means the Gate of the Sun, and, though there is no gate, the place is bathed with sunshine. But not all the people gather there; many more go into the Alcata, a park bright with flower beds and green canopies made by the lapping branches. Here are plenty of men and women chatting on benches and listening to the military band. Another of the popular squares is the Salon del Prado, noteworthy for the splendid obelisk of the Dos de Mayo, placed there to commemorate the Murat massacre of 1808.

One of the most popular rendezvous of the Spanish people is the Plaza Mayor, the grand square of Madrid. It is 2,450 feet above the sea. It is here one of the royal bullfights takes place, and near by is a beautiful bronze statue of Philip III. In recent years the square has been converted into a large garden. Under the arcades are many shops, principally filled with attractive Spanish boys.

Many of the public buildings are in one and another of these large squares, and they are built in keeping with their surroundings. The older buildings have been remodeled until they seem really modern. Attractive in spite of their age are the isolated buildings of the home offices built by Charles III. in 1768.

Another spacious marble building, handsomely carved, is in the square called the Plazuela de la Villa. This large building was once a royal residence, but it is now the home and public office of the Duques del Infantado.

But there are plenty of more modern structures. Close to the obelisk is the Exchange, built of marble and stone; the facade is ornamented by many Ionic pilars. On the opposite side is a larger marble building called the Spainone, one of the finest public buildings in Europe.

The houses in the old parts are often worn and dingy looking; some are many centuries old. But in the newer parts, such as Barriode Salamanca, the houses and apartments have much the same style and individuality that characterize our private buildings. They are far more gorgeous inside than they are without. The ceilings are beautifully tinted and decorated with charming pastoral scenes. The furniture is elaborate. It is both splendidly carved and gilded. Some of it is made in the country, but a large part is imported from France. The floors are softened by beautiful rugs woven in the Moorish towns and in Persia.

But the feature that attracts one most are the streets, in which the people promenade and make merry. They are compact, for one can drive from one end to the other in half an hour. Most of the streets are broad, excepting in the old parts, where there is still a dash of local color in the narrow, winding lanes and the hanging balconies.

The most splendid of these streets is the Prado, which is the Champs Elysees of Paris and the Mall of London. The Prado, though not long, is beautifully kept, bordered with plenty of shade trees and flanked by smaller avenues. These extend to the well-known garden of the Buen Vetiro, marked at both ends by two enormous stone fountains. They are beautifully ornamented. One is surmounted by a colossal cybele seated on a shell and drawn by waterhorses. The other is a Neptune of great size. In this vicinity is the famous Church of Nuestra Senora di Atocha, rich in gifts given to Isabella after the assault of Feb. 2, 1852.

Though the Prado is lively every pleasant afternoon, it is so crowded on fete days one can hardly pass. The street is a mass of people, carriages and horses. The peasants from the towns around mix with the nobility listening to the bands and dining in one and another of the cafes.

Another favorite centre is the Plaza del Oriente, between the Royal Palace and the Royal Theatre. The middle classes love to congregate and wait for the royal carriage to drive by to the theatre. It is in the form of an oval and its outer promenade is ornamented with fourteen enormous statues of kings and queens. In the centre of these pretty gardens is a magnificent statue of Philip IV., mounted on his charger, as becomes a king who was considered the best horseman in Spain. The statue is 40 feet high, and the reliefs on the pedestal are remarkably fine. They represent, with allegorical figures, the knighting of Velasquez by Philip IV.

In the Plaza de Independence is another splendid adornment to the city. It is the only triumphal arch in Madrid and was designed by Sabatieno and created at the command of Charles III. to commemorate his entrance into Madrid. The gate consists of five arches and is 72 feet hign.

Although Madrid cannot boast of a larger body of water than a river called the Manzanares, it is ornamented at several points with several splendid stone bridges. The one at the west end is a stone bridge of nine arches and is ornamented with large buttresses and medallions.

At the top of the Pasco de Recoteles is a monument to Columbus in the debased Gothic style of Ferdinand and Isabella. The sides are ornamented with reliefs and the whole is surmounted by a white marble statue.

In addition to the attractive boulevards and gardens ornamented with statues and fountains are the government buildings and the palaces.

A splendid building is the House of Commons. It is on the north side of the Plaza de la Cortes. In the centre of the facade is a pediment representing Spain receiving the Law, through Power and Justice. Another building that invites interest, especially for strangers, is the Casa du Moneda, the mint of Spain. The building is spacious and modern and it is fully equipped with plenty of foreign and up-to-date machinery.

More elaborated even than the House of Commons is La Casa de les Ministeros, which was built and fitted up for the secretaries of state. The grand staircase and vestibule are of rare and costly marble. The ceiling of the library is decorated with three exquisitely fine medallions.

But the Royal Palace is the main point of interest. It is the building to which strangers turn with curious gaze. It is about 420 feet long and 100 feet high, but the wings and the hanging gardens are still unfinished. The base is of granite, but the trimmings are marble. The splendid entrance leads into a large court with a glazed upper gallery. It is said that when Napoleon ascended the long sweep of marble steps for the first time he exclaimed to his brother, Joseph: "Well, you are certainly housed better than I."

Though there are plenty of suites to tire the eyes, none is so beautiful as the chief salon. It is called de Embajadores, or throneroom, and the decorations are magnificent. The most priceless ornaments, as well as the most beautiful, are the rock chrystal chandeliers, heavy and very large. The curtains and draperies are of crimson velvet, which give a warmth to the marble and lustre to the room, especially in the evening, when the great chandeliers are lighted.

A legitimate part of the palace is the magnificent library that boasts 100,000 books, rare manuscripts and beautiful illuminations. The Spanish are equally proud of their large collection of implements of war, housed in the armory. Though a great deal of the collection is many centuries old, the building is new and modern. The nucleus was started in the time of Charles V. But there are weapons from the time of the Spanish Armada, the Inquisition, as well as those used at the time of the landing of Columbus. The walls are covered with helmets, bows, swords, and gigantic lances. From the ceiling hang the banners of all the armies of the world, from inner Mexico to the farthest oriental countries.

But it is the National Picture Gallery of which Madrid is most proud. Though the collection is comparatively small, there are a number of pictures that have a priceless value. The first room is especially noteworthy for the paintings of Luca Geordano. In the second room is a large collection of Goya, the last of the great Spanish painters. In the third, which is a large square, are the masterpieces of the great masters. Here are seen the loveliest of the Virgins of Murillo, and on another wall the portraits of the saints of Ribera. In the centre of the room are the pictures of Raphael, Michael Angelo, Titian and other great Italian painters. But of the Spanish masters, Murillo and Goya are especially popular. Murillo street waifs, happy in their poverty, are always loved; while Goya is at his best with peasant scenes, representing smugglers, massacres, thieves, wars, etc.

Madrid, indeed, has much to be proud of.

CAN CHANGE IRON INTO STEEL

A German named Kallman is astounding Europe with scientific results obtained in a new process for changing low-grade iron into first-class steel. It has already been done in Germany and in London and the great English firm of Vickers & Maxim is said to have oocred a vast sum fro the British rights to the new process.

The real secret of the proces lies in a certain peculiar chemical power whose ingredients are so far unknown to the public.

Most marvelous of all is the fact that models of machinery have been worked up in low-grade iron and coated with the powder. After being put into the airtight furnace the models have been removed and the iron found transformed into first-class steel. The experts who have watched this marvel working powder perform this astonishing chemical change are well known throughout Europe, and any possibility of deceiveing them would seem out of the question.

Some machinery was heavily quoted with the powder and changed entirely into high-grade steel, while other models were only lightly coated and with these only a thin skin was changed into steel; the interior of the metal remaining iron. For instance, an iron car wheel was given a steel rim and a heavy iron chain was turned into solid steel at one end and graduated to the otner end with a coating of steel of regularly decreasing thickness.

The possibilities of this wonderful powder are tremendous, because tools can be cast as iron and afterward converted into first-class steel. Objects can be made in iron where flexibility is necessary and then changed into steel at wearing points or at points of contact. The scientific men and engineers who have witnessed the performances of this secret powder have been dumbfounded at the results obtained and the British government is said to be negotiating for the rights to use it in producing guns and warships.

LORD CURZON'S REPLY TO MR. LLOYD GEORGE

Scathing Attack on Chancellor of the Exchequer—Declaration That the Peers May Be Trusted to Do Their Duty.

A few days after Hon. David Lloyd George's Newcastle speech, Lord Curzon of Kedleston addressed a great Unionist demonstration in the Coliseum, Leeds, at which John Gordon, candidate for Central Leeds, presided. The feature of his lordship's stirring speech was a slashing attack on the Chancellor of the Exchequer, whom he accused of appealing to the passions and trading upon the ignorance of the mob. No Chancellor, he said, had ever made such a speech as Mr. Lloyd-George's Limehouse and Newcastle efforts, the like of which, however, could be heard any day in Hyde Park. The demagogue in history, he wittily remarked, had usually ended by losing his head—nowadays he began that way.

Which Road Shall We Take?

Lord Curzon, who was cordially received, said the time would shortly arrive when the country would be asked at the polls to say upon what track it was going to march—was it going to continue on the old lines of constitutional progress and orderly advance, or, in obedience to the appeals of its new leaders, was it going to plunge down hill into Socialism and revolution? Proceeding to deal with Mr. Lloyd George's speech at Newcastle, Lord Curzon said that speech appeared to have excited the cheers of an audience that, no doubt, revelled in its highly spiced invective, and who punctuated its stories with constant cries of "shame." That, however, was more discreditable to the speaker than to the audience, because it suggested that he had been appealing to their passions and trading upon their ignorance (cheers.)

Though it had excited these ejaculations, he had little doubt it had prompted feelings of disquietude and dismay in the minds of those who had studied it at ease. No Chancellor of the Exchequer in this country had ever made such a speech before, with one exception—and that was Mr. Lloyd George himself at Limehouse (laughter). One such speech might be excused as an ebullition of temper, but two could not. Its purpose was the purpose of a demagogue. Through the ages the demagogue had usually eded by losing his head, but in this country that proceeding was inverted (laughter).

Hyde Park "Oratory."

There was nothing uncommon in such oratory: it could be heard on any day in Hyde Park. However, speeches of that kind would bring thousands of votes to the Unionist party, so they had no need to complain. But what of the average man, who was, after all, the determining factor in politics? His feeling was one of disgust or amazement. Moreover, such appeals were not to be regretted from the public point of view, for they opened the eyes of men to the path upon which they were being invited to proceed. It might be said that these taxes in the budget were only an expansion of existing taxes, but after Mr. Lloyd George's and Mr. Churchill's speeches one began to realize that the budget was not a question of ordinary principles or ordinary taxes, but that we were being invited to consider a scheme which embraced land nationalization, contemplated the transfer of property from one class to another, and in the last resort must convert the time-honored and venerable constitution of this country into a single chamber government, dependent upon the volution of the House of Commons alone.

If this situation was not realized in this country it was very well realized where they had greater experience of Socialism than we had. He should ignore the stories of the wicked landlords with which the speech was freely interspersed, as these stories were vague and anonymous, and as such destitute of any particular value. As to mining royalties, Mr. Lloyd George's object was evidently to excite prejudice, to inflame the passions of the people, and to represent these cases as cases of substantial tyranny and injustice carried out by landlords. If a man had property, if minerals were found under it, if he had not capital or inclination to develop it, and if he farmed out his rights and asked for a royalty of 6d. a ton, what was there wrong in that? It was the principle of all business—the key of all profits.

Rich Liberals Exempt.

It is, declared Lord Curzon, what every one of us does on this platform, and what every one who gets the chance would do (laughter and hear, hear.) Why was this man to be held up to public odium? Good heavens! In the story in question it appeared that the railway company and the mining investor made a pretty good thing of it, as they were entitled to do. It was often said that the Conservative party were opposed to these taxes from reasons of self-interest. With the proposition that rich men ought to pay to the cost of government in proportion to their wealth he agreed, but that was exactly what the government in this budget did not do. They did not tax the rich because of their wealth, or in proportion to their wealth—they left a large majority of the rich altogether alone. They picked out the landowners, and more especially the possessors of urban land, and piled the whole burden on their shoulders. We were told that all the richest men were on the Liberal benches—rather a curious remark from a modern demagague; an apostle of the poor! But were these gentlemen landowners or urban landowners? He strongly suspected that the wealth with which they were endowed had very little connection with land, and was, for the most part, derived from business investments, stocks, and securities. No wonder, therefore, if these gentlemen did not object to the unearned increment (laughter). If the doctrine of unearned increment were passed on from the land to every other form of property, as logically it ought to be, the attitude of these wealthy gentlemen would be like that of the young man of great possessions in the New Testament, who, when he was told to part with his riches and give them to the poor, went sorrowfully away (laughter).

Liquid Stream of Mud.

Lord Curzon remarked that Mr. Lloyd George reserved his choicest expletives for the landlords. Anything that was disparaging to the ordinary class of landlord was raked up and poured on them in a liquid stream of mud. Well, he thought the landowners could stand upon their own record. He knew this that when they had broken down—if ever they did break it down—the existing system of landed tenure in this country, when they had drained or driven away the capital that was at the present time invested in land, they would destroy what every foreign observer had regarded as one of the chief glories of England. They would find that the taxes would be thumbscrew upon the poor just as much as upon the rich. Suppose an extreme Socialist programme became law and we got rid of the dukes—there were only thirty of them, and some of them were comparatively poor (laughter). How were we to be the gainers? If we were to populate the Pole, we would presently find out there were rich men and poor men even there.

What Will the Lords Do?

Turning to the House of Lords, Lord Curzon declined to admit that they would be actuated by any selfish consideration in the matter of the budget. There was no reluctance on the part of the Lords to bear their full share, and more than their present share, of the burdens of this country. He did not suppose they were eager to embark upon a struggle on the question of privilege with the House of Commons, but driven to it in the past, they might be impelled to it again. The first question the Lords were likely to put was: What were their constitutional rights in the matter—and it should be remembered that there was no written law as to that. That was one of the difficulties of an unwritte nconstitution. For a long time they had waived the right to alter or amend taxes in the budget. Whatever might be said of the case for amending, the right to accept or reject was one that had never been abandoned or waived by the House of Lords. He thought there could be no question whatever of the constitutional right of the Lords to reject this or any other budget, but he did not labor the point, because he thought the peers were more likely to regard the case from the point of view of their duties as a branch of the legislature rather than from any insistence on their rights on a question of procedure.

Concluding, Lord Curzon said that the budget was no doubt the question of the moment, but he wanted to ask them whether it was the most important question of the day (cries of "No" and "Yes"). He ventured to say it was not. The most serious issue in the minds of all thoughtful men was the social condition of our people. This was not a sign of a healthy state of affairs. Was this the time to frighten capital from our shores and to dry up the springs of employment? Was this the moment at which lightly to embark upon a class war? If his Majesty's ministers talked a little less about taxing the rich and thought more of feeding the poor it would be a more practical proceeding (cries of "Old age pensions").

Alluding to the £150,000,000 worth of goods which were annually entering this country to compete with our industries, Lord Curzon asked: Are we never to take our toll of the foreigner as he takes his toll of us? Are we the only people to go on worshipping Free Trade when it has become a dilapidated image at an empty shrine?

A resolution against the budget was subsequently carried.

CITY LIST IS NOW BEING CLEANED UP

Long Task to Get Through the List of Objections.

The revision of the Victoria city voters' list was continued this morning by Registrar Harvey Combe, having been commenced yesterday afternoon, when the Esquimalt list was finished.

W. E. Ditchburn is looking after the Liberal interests and W. H. Price after those of the Conservative party.

There is a formidable list of objections to names on the list, made with the object of cleaning it up by the removal of the names of those who are dead or who have left the constituency permanently over six months ago. The mere formal reading over of the names and the striking of them out is a long and tedious task, but good progress is being made on it. Several voters objected to by the Conservatives turned up this morning to prove their right to be on and the objections were withdrawn.

REWARD OFFERED FOR ANDREA'S MURDERER

Police Searching for Two Italians Thought to Be in Hiding.

A reward of one thousand dollars has been offered by the provincial government for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the murderer of Salvatore Andrea, the Italian, whose body was found a week ago Sunday near the Leach river trail at Goldstream.

Despite the inquiries of the provincial police being made into the matter absolutely no light has been thrown on the death of Andrea. The Italian, Domini, who was arrested at Cobble Hill the day the body was found, has been released as there was nothing to be got out of him. Throughout the time he was held in jail he persistently denied having any knowledge of the murdered man, and all the questioning failed to throw any light on the matter.

A theory of the Black Hand has been suggested, but the police do not think Andrea met his death at the hands of these assassins, for in those cases the murderer generally leaves some theatrical announcement by the body to show the Black Hand has been at work. No such sign was discovered near the spot where Andrea's body lay.

Two Italians who travelled up the E. & N. line the morning before the body of deceased was recovered have been sarched for without avail. Descriptions were wired to Ladysmith and Nanaimo, but the men were not apprehended there and are thought to have made their escape to Vancouver, where they are in hiding. The provincial police are directing their attention to Vancouver, where they hope to locate the two men.

ference that the acts charged were committed in ignorance. The sole question is their guilt or innocence."

Continuing, the opinion declares that if citizens are allowed to ignore the courts, "the government will become powerless and society soon will be reduced to a state of anarchy."

It says: "The acts of the defendants can produce but one impression—that they were concerned in a well-planned effort to encourage the membership of the American Federation of Labor, to disregard and disobey the order of the court and create among their followers a lack of respect for the authority and dignity of the court."

Justice Van Orsdel avoids reference to the pleas made by the labor leaders that their conviction constituted an abridgement of their constitutional right of free speech and free press.

In dissenting, Justice Shepherd on the other hand declares his belief that the court exceeded its authority and recommends that the case be retried.

WHEAT LOWER IN CHICAGO MARKET

Trading Dull Throughout Entire Session—Cash Prices Drop.

(By Dominion Wireless.)

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Wheat opened lower and closed ⅝c.@¾c. a bushel lower than yesterday. There was a weaker feeling abroad, and Liverpool closed ⅛d.@¼d. lower, after opening ⅛d. to ¼d. below yesterday's final prices.

It is very evident that cash wheat premiums are gradually disappearing and cash prices were lower in southwestern markets to-day. Here, cash wheat was easier, the quotations being unchanged.

After the opening the market drifted about lazily and added ⅛c. in the December and ¼c. in the May. July opened at the high point, and, like other options, began to weaken early in the day. Trading, however, was dull on the whole.

ANDREW McAFEE TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Nervous Breakdown, Following Sickness, Believed to Have Led to Act.

Andrew McAfee, a warehouseman in the employ of the Hudson's Bay Company, ended his life this morning by shooting himself in the left breast with a shotgun. The coroner has been informed and has ordered an inquest to be held to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The deceased has been twenty years employed by the Hudson's Bay Company, and of latter years acted as the city traveller of the firm in Victoria. He was a married man, having been married about two years.

For the past few weeks he was suffering from sickness and his death, while directly due to the gunshot wound, is thought to have been brought about by a general nervous break-down. Deceased was in good standing with the Hudson's Bay Company, where he has always been highly respected for his integrity and ability.

He was born in Belfast, Ireland, October 11th, 1867, but has been many years a resident of Victoria and resided on Superior street.

BILLIE BURKE.

"Love Watches" Was Well Presented at Victoria Theatre Last Night.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, a crowded house greeted Billie Burke at the Victoria theatre last night to see her and her able company present "Love Watches." The play was a comedy of the lightest character, and afforded the large audience a great deal of laughter and amusement. Billie Burke in the leading role admirably sustained her reputation as a society comedienne, at the same time she is very winsome and pretty.

Ernest Lawford, as Ernest Augarde, was very good. He had rather a difficult part to play, but he accomplished it in a very clever manner.

The balance of the company were all good in their parts. The costumes and stage fixtures were not the least important features of the play.

REPORTED DEFEAT OF REVOLUTIONISTS

Story of Flight of the President of Nicaragua is Denied.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 2.—A special dispatch from Bluefields to-day says that Mangua, the capital of Nicaragua, is in the hands of the provisional government and that Zelaya, the deposed president of the republic, is fleeing for his life. The report, however, has not been confirmed.

Other dispatches received this afternoon deny that the revolutionists have captured Managua, the capital of Nicaragua.

A cablegram received here this afternoon by the Nicaraguan consul representing the Zelaya administration declared that the Zelaya and Estrada forces had clashed near Boca san Carlos and Guapamil, and in each battle the revolutionists were routed. The message also stated that Zelaya will have regained the Atlantic coast within a week.

—The Victoria West Ladies of the Macabees meet this evening in Semple's hall. There is important business to come up, and in order to get it through so that members can attend the church social in St. Paul's church the meeting will commence sharp at 8 o'clock.

MME. STEINHEIL SAYS SHE IS INNOCENT

Declares She Knows Man Who Killed Husband, But is Afraid to Tell.

Paris, Nov. 2.—Preparations are complete and to-morrow Mme. Steinheil, charged with the murder of her artist husband and her mother-in-law, will come to trial. It is reported that she will spring a sensation, and that a number of prominent Parisians will be called as witnesses for the defence.

Her attorney, Antony Aubin, has been busily engaged in preparing his side of the case for several weeks. He refused to-day to more than intimate what line of defence will be put up. It is said, however, that an attempt will be made to prove that a man was the assassin and that Mme. Steinheil was really made the prisoner which she asserts she was, when the only two other occupants of the house in the Impasse Rosin were killed.

With the approach of her trial the woman, whom it is said can tell much regarding the mysterious death of President Felix Faure, shows many marked indications of anxiety. Last night she hardly slept, passing most of the night pacing the confines of her room. Many times she would halt in her endless march and exclaim: "Yes, I know the assassin. I saw him kill my husband. But I am afraid—I am afraid to tell."

She has aged visibly since her arrest.

TWO FRIENDS RESCUED BY GIN PILLS.

The Kidney and Bladder Remedy.

Mr. Herbert Bauer, of Davisville, says he owes Gin Pills a debt of gratitude which he can never repay. He suffered for years with Bladder Trouble, and could not pass urine except by much straining, which caused great pain.

Mr. Bauer sent for a free sample of Gin Pills. The first dose did him so much good that he ordered six boxes and began to take them regularly. A month's treatment completely cured him.

In high glee he called on his friend, Mr. Simpson, to tell the latter about his recovery and what a wonderful remedy Gin Pills proved to be. Mr. Simpson, at that time, was suffering intensely with his Kidneys. Gin Pills were promptly recommended and taken—with the gratifying result that both these good friends are well and happy men to-day.

Gin Pills are a special remedy for three special diseases—Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Troubles. For these, Gin Pills are sold with an absolute guarantee of prompt relief or money refunded. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50. Write National Drug & Chemical Co. (Dept. V.T.), Toronto, for free sample.

NEW LABOR TEMPLE FOR VANCOUVER

Will Be Erected at Cost of Forty Thousand Dollars.

Vancouver, Nov. 1.—Arrangements for the construction of the proposed new Labor Temple, which is to be erected on the site occupied by the present Labor hall at the corner of Homer and Dunsmuir streets, were advanced another step at a meeting of advanced at the provisional board of the Vancouver Labor Temple Co., Ltd. At this meeting the articles of incorporation for the company which had just arrived from the provincial registrar in Victoria, were formally read and provisional officers elected, H. Sellers was chosen as chairman, and R. P. Pettipiece as secretary pro tem. It was decided to hold the first annual meeting of the company on November 11th when permanent officers will be elected and the designs and plans of the new labor temple will be considered.

It is planned to make the new labor temple a thoroughly modern structure in every respect and one that will not only be a credit to labor unions architectually, but also be a good revenue producer. The proposed building will cost in the neighborhood of $40,000, and will contain several stores on the ground floor as well as a big gymnasium, reading room, large ball room and a number of meeting halls.

The purchase of the old Homer street Methodist church, now known as the labor hall, has proved a very good investment to the local unions. The building and site cost nearly $8,000 about eight years ago, but its value today may be judged from the offer which was made for it last year. The provisional officers of the labor temple company have recieved assurances from a large number of the local labor unions that they will not only transfer their certificates of their debentures in the Vancouver Labor Hall to the new company promoting the new labor temple, but will also subscribe for a considerable amount of new stock.

SHINGLE WEAVERS.

Officers Elected at Meeting of International Union of America.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 2.—Practically no contest was made for the officers of the International Shingle Weavers Union of America, which has headquarters in Seattle, as evinced by the canvas of the ballots at the labor temple. The vote cast was very light and with the exception of the office of the fifth vice-president where the incumbent was a candidate, the present officers were re-elected. The result is as follows:

President, C. J. Folsom, of Everett; First Vice-President, George Burns, of Elma; Second Vice-President, J. J. Ondro, of Marienette, Wis.; Fourth Vice-President, E. Kuehl, of Edmonds; Fifth Vice-President, H. S. Kress, of Hoquiam; Secretary-treasurer, W. E. Willis, of Hoquiam. Delegates to American Federation of Labor, E. P. Marsh, Everett.

The last official report of Secretary-treasurer Willis gave the funds at hand on October 1st as $5,773. The present membership is between 2,500 and 3,000 75 per cent of whom are in Washington.

CLEARING HOUSE AT NEW WESTMINSTER

Institution Likely to Be Organized in the Near Future.

New Westminster, Nov. 1.—With the arrival of one or more bank branches in the city there is a probability that a clearing house will be formed here in the near future. So far can be learned no steps have yet been taken toward this end but some of the banking men of the city expressed the conviction that the formation of such an institution would necessarily follow the establishment of more branches in the city.

The number of large factories in and around the city brings a quantity of business to the banks that is surprising. Most of these do their business by cheque, the result being that the exchange of cheques has become a very large factor in the work of the banks and will be necessarily increased considerably when several more branches, some assured, others contemplated, are opened.

NEW C. P. R. SCHEDULE.

Vancouver, Nov. 1.—The double daily service between Vancouver and eastern points, which was inaugurated early in the summer, will be continued during the winter months by the C. P. R., although the time table has been altered. The new time card went into effect at one minute past midnight Saturday night. Westbound train No. 97 will reach Vancouver at 12.20 p. m., while train No. 1 will arrive at 12 o'clock midnight. One train will be operated on the Vancouver-Seattle run as in the past, leaving here every morning at 8.25 o'clock. The time for the arrival of the Seattle express is set for 6.55 p.m. The Agassiz local will leave here daily at 5:25 p. m., and west-bound will reach Vancouver at 10.35 a.m.

NEW CHURCH PROPOSED.

Quesnel, Nov. 1.—During the visit of Archdeacon Pugh, an effort was made to have an English church established here. As there are a large number of English Church people here the establishment of a church would be heartily welcomed.

The result of the annual rifle shoot which took place here are as follows: Henry Windt, Alexander, 204, winner of the Reid Memorial cup and gold medal. George Hamilton, 186, winner of Mrs. Carey's cup, D. H. Anderson, 20[illegible] winner of silver medal. Capt. Brown 194, winner of medal. Besides these prizes a large number of other prizes were won, consisting of cash and goods offered as prizes by the local business houses.

HUNTERS RETURNING.

Lillooet, Nov. 1.—As the hunting season draws to a close, parties are returning from their trips. About the usual number of parties visited here this year, from the outside, and most of them were well pleased.

Mining is looking up for the Winter. The Anderson Lake property will most likely be worked all through the winter. Several contracts are to be let on Bridge river to open up quartz claims.

CONTRACT WORK PROVES FAILURE

TENDERS TOO HIGH FOR OAK BAY PEOPLE

Water Mains Will Be Laid by Day Labor—Routine Business.

The proposal to lay water mains in the municipality of Oak Bay by contract has fallen through owing to the fact that the tenders submitted for the work were too high. When tenders were invited Engineer Fowler was also instructed to submit a figure on behalf of the municipality. His tender was found to be the lowest so the work will be done by him by day labor. The work will be started at once and all available men will be set to work digging the trenches. The pipes are on the ground, so there can be no reasonable delay in having the new water-pipes connected with the city mains.

A hurry up order has just gone forth from the clerk's office in connection with all the works of local improvement in the municipality. A number of by-laws have been passed and the debentures sold, but the works are not yet complete. There was some delay earlier in the season in getting the rock crusher and other machinery in working order. Now, however, there are plenty of men available and all that offer are being put to work with the result that the roads and sidewalks will very soon be all made. Ordinary repair work is being set aside for a short time in order to allow of this being done. At the regular meeting of the council last night several requests for repairs to streets were so disposed of.

There were present at the meeting Reeve Henderson and Councillors Newton, Noble, McGregor and Oliver, the other two councillors having a long distance to come were doubtless kept away by the inclemency of the weather.

A rather interesting diversion from the ordinary hum drum routine of business was created when Mr. Townsend, a local milkman, arraigned the council for having left a gate open so that his cows had strayed. A few days ago the same cows had strayed on to the highway and had been impounded by the constable. He asked that these fees be returned, and then wanted to know what was to be done about the cows which were at that time at large and might be run down by a street car. When it was shown that these cows were now in milk the council refused to take any steps that night, although they gave permission for the constables to help search for them in the morning.

The report of the streets committee showed that neither Dr. Jones, nor Messrs. McCallum or Sampson had taken out the necessary permits for the residences recently erected by them. The architects are being notified that this must be done at once. The same report showed that the work on the Linkleas roads was ordered to proceed; that a 4-inch water main was granted on Monterey Avenue North; that Wilmot Avenue residents objected to the continued presence of the rock crusher in the vicinity; and that Pathmaster Poole was granted an increase of ten dollars a month to his salary.

The matter of some of the residents having sewerage flowing into surface drains was reported and an order passed that this should at once be discontinued. Residents in the neighborhood of Hampshire road will also be ordered to abate a nuisance.

A. C. McCallum asked for permission to construct boulevards in front of his new house. This was granted, but with no permission to fence the same permanently.

A subdivision submitted on behalf of Mrs. Gunn was accepted.

Councillor McGregor, on behalf of the Linkleas subdivision, asked the council for permsision to clear the right-of-way, which was granted.

The council then adjourned.

MAMMOTH ENGINE FOR HEAVY GRADES

Has the Power of Two Locomotives of Present Type.

During the past week or two another series of experiments have been made by the mechanical department of the Canadian Pacific with the new mammoth locomotive which has been under construction and improvement for some time past at the Angus shops. This locomotive, which is by far the largest that has ever been constructed in Canada, is designed to serve as a type for a series of big engines to be used on the heavy western grades, and consequently unusual efforts have been made by H. H. Vaughan and the engineering staff to make it as perfect as possible before accepting it as a standard. When it was first tried out last summer the engine was found to be too heavy to do the work expected of it, and it was sent back to the shops, where improvements were made which have lightened it by about ten thousand pounds.

This was not hurried over, as the shops were busy with the summer work, and the changes were only finished last week, when a series of tests were made on the big Hochelaga grade, which has a rise of 1 6-16 per cent. These tests proved perfectly satisfactory, the big engine not only fulfilling expectations, but developing even greater tractive power than it had been designed for. It was, however, learned in the tests that it could be made still more powerful by a rearrangement of the superheater, and it has been returned to the shops for this improvement.

As it stood at the last test, however, the huge locomotive developed a tractive power greater than that of two ordinary switching engines. It then weighed 262,000 pounds, or 390,000 pounds with the tender, and developed a tractive power of 56,000 pounds. This would be sufficient to pull an ordinary freight train of 1,140 tons over a 1 6-10 per cent grade with ease, while the ordinary engine would have to take such a train over a similar grade in two sections, or use an auxiliary engine. This is the first of these big Mellet compound articulated engines to be built in Canada, and as soon as its details are definitely fixed it will be sent west to handle trains over the Rocky Mountain grades, while others of its class will be built at the Angus shops.

CONCERT TO-NIGHT.

High Class Entertainment to Be Given in Institute Hall at 8 o'Clock.

The concert to be given by the Cassels-Percival entertainers this evening at 8 o'clock in the Institute hall promises to be a most delightful affair. The committee which has had charge of making all arrangements have spared no pains in their effort to make this event a big success. A large audience is looked for by those in charge, and it is hoped that they will not be disappointed.

Those who will take part on the programme this evening will be Miss Caroline Cassels, prima donna contralto; Miss Fenwick, violinist, and Mr. Percival, the wizard. They are proclaimed to be high class entertainers, and promise their hearers an enjoyable evening of mirth, music and magic.

—The paper to have been delivered last night by Dr. Newcomb before the Natural History Society was postponed for a fortnight, the attendance not being large owing to the extreme weather. A number of interesting specimens were examined and a short paper read by Dr. Hasell on "The Argentine Ant." Several new members were elected.

—Dine at the Poodle Dog.

Special Exhibit of Fine China

Featured in the China Store To-day—Advance Christmas Goods

ADVANCE shipments of china chosen specially for this season's Christmas business are already arriving—the past two days having witnessed the arrival of two large shipments of particularly fine china. So much newness in the china store now that we have a special exhibition to which we invite you.
